

RUDRAM COMPANION

---

A Beginner's Exploration of Sri Rudram Namakam & Chamakam Enlightening Perspectives

Dr. Axay Kalathia

An introductory resource on Sri Rudram · Namakam · Chamakam

---

Disclaimer & Acknowledgments

---

This book is a beginner's compilation of sacred wisdom gathered at the Lotus Feet of Bhagawan Sri Sathya Sai Baba. The insights presented here are derived from personal notes taken during exposure to Baba's divine discourses and writings, alongside the illuminating explanations shared by His devoted scholars and seekers.

The Sri Rudram is a hymn of such depth and profundity that multiple, if not infinite, interpretations are embedded within its sacred vibrations. What is offered here is simply one humble attempt to articulate one of those interpretations, offered in a spirit of love and service.

To make this grand philosophy accessible to those with no prior exposure to Vedic chanting, I have referenced various English texts and digital resources, utilizing modern AI technology as a supportive tool to collate, structure, edit, and organize the material. While the source remains eternally pure, any errors, omissions, or misinterpretations in this presentation are entirely my own, and I humbly pray for the reader's indulgence and forgiveness.

The illustrative images in this volume were adapted from photographs sourced from the Sri Sathya Sai Media Centre and rendered in abstract black-and-white pencil style. This interpretive treatment was chosen deliberately: just as the Rudram invites each seeker into a personal process of understanding, the images themselves have been abstracted so that they, too, encourage contemplation along with the representation. Deep gratitude is offered to the Sri Sathya Sai Media Centre for making these images available.

The following have been included to complement the study companion:

- Appendix A – Overview on how to start learning the chanting
- Appendix B – Information on the Ekadasha Rudram
- Appendix C – One-Word to capture the essence of each Anuvaka
- Appendix D – Meditative reflections for each Anuvaka
- Appendix E – Quotes from Sri Sathya Sai Baba on Vedas and Rudram
- Appendix F – Glossary of the Sanskrit words contained in the Rudram

← Back to Contents

Copyright & License

---

Copyright © 2026 Dr. Axay Kalathia

This work is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International License (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0).

You are free to share, copy, and redistribute this material in any medium or format for non-commercial, spiritual, and educational purposes, provided you give appropriate credit to the author and the title of the work. You may not use the material for commercial purposes, and you may not remix, transform, or build upon the material for distribution.

Vedic source texts are in the public domain. Selected teachings of Bhagawan Sri Sathya Sai Baba are quoted here solely for non-commercial spiritual commentary and educational purposes. All rights to the original discourses remain with the Sri Sathya Sai Central Trust.

Full license text: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/>

Foreword

---

When I was first exposed to the chanting of the Sri Rudram, not knowing Sanskrit, I could only listen and absorb the vibrations. They were mesmerizing and spiritually magnetic. However, when I encountered the literal translations, I found myself deeply confused; it was difficult to reconcile the outer message of the verses with the profound spiritual teachings I had been most fortunate to learn from Bhagawan Sri Sathya Sai Baba. While Baba had distilled the essence of all faiths, religions, and philosophies through the ages into accessible, enlightening truths that completely resonated with my quest, the Rudram remained a mystery.

Listening to the introductory Vedic chants in Prasanthi Nilayam was captivating, yet it felt distant and beyond my immediate capacity to understand. It was only through Bhagawan's direct guidance, encouragement, and sheer Grace that I was slowly initiated into this grand philosophy of the Vedas, experiencing the immense power of the vibratory revelations passed down through the ages by seers and sages. I was blessed to learn the chants with the help of His students and teachers, initially guided by the cassette recordings distributed by the ashram. Slowly and steadily, I learned several Vedic hymns, including the Rudram, which Swami graciously permitted me to chant in His physical presence in Prasanthi Nilayam. Aided by the power of the chanting itself, which became the cornerstone of my daily spiritual practice (Sadhana), and with Bhagawan directing me to scholarly works and wise teachers, the veil of mystery began to lift. I finally realized that the inner message of the Rudram was entirely identical to the universal teachings I had first received from Bhagawan: a sublime message of Love, Unity, and Sacrifice.

For any seeker drawn to this majestic hymn, the most vital advice is to approach every learning and chanting session with Love. By expanding that Love within and without, you will realize that spiritual progress is not achieved by rigid means, but by letting go and allowing the Atma to blossom from within.

Overview

---

The Namakam and the Chamakam together comprise Sri Rudram, which is a sacred hymn from the Taittiriya Samhita (Book 4, Chapter 5) of the Krishna Yajur Veda. It is dedicated to Rudra, a fierce representation of Shiva, who is the embodiment of the primordial principle of ultimate auspiciousness and benevolence that exists unconditionally beneath the apparent chaos of creation. One way to try and understand the Rudram is to view it as the experience of the journey of a spiritual seeker who undergoes the ultimate realization that their true nature is identical with that of the universe. This profound realization is the culmination of a spiritual transformation operating across physical, emotional, mental and metaphysical levels.

The Namakam Path

The Namakam is composed of eleven sections called Anuvakas. It is named Namakam because of its repeated offerings of namah (salutation), each time awakening an understanding that acts to release limiting thoughts of separation.

The eleven Anuvakas progressively guide the seeker from recognition of Rudra in all forms and professions, through the embrace of dualities, nature, the elements, and subtle energies, to the final silence of merging with the all-pervading One. Each repeated namah dissolves another layer of the illusion of separation.

The Chamakam Path

Following the successful surrendering of the misconception of being separate in Namakam, the Chamakam speaks of the manifestations of those qualities demonstrated by being aligned with the Oneness Principle. It is named Chamakam due to the repeated refrain cha me ("and for me") to affirm the divine abundance of life experienced after moving from separateness to total inclusion and manifestation.

The eleven Anuvakas reclaim vitality and the senses, inner sovereignty, alignment of qualities, sacramental nourishment, the living garment of nature, the harmonious play of cosmic forces within the heart, purification of the subtle channels, consecration of the body as altar, integration of action-worship-wisdom, transcendence of time, and the mathematical return of multiplicity into the One.

In summary, the Namakam gradually affirms: "Not this, not that, yet all this too is That" while the Chamakam declares: "All of this is also in me as I am That."

← Back to Contents

The Sacred Text — Namakam & Chamakam in IAST

Complete traditional text of Sri Rudram in IAST (International Alphabet of Sanskrit Transliteration).
Source: Taittirīya Saṃhitā (public domain). Click any underlined word for a short definition. Common particles (ca, me, te, etc.) are also clickable.

Tip: Tap/click a word. Click outside or press Esc to close the popup. Use A+/A- to change size.

Font size

Namakam (11 Anuvākas)

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 1

om namo bhagavate rudrāya |

namaste rudra manyava utota iṣave namah |

namaste astu dhanvane bāhubhyām uta te namah ||

yā ta isuh śivatamā śivam babhūva te dhanuh |

śivā śaravyā yā tava tayā no rudra mrdaya ||

yā te rudra śivā tanūh aghorā'pāpakāśinī | tayā nastanuvā
śantamayā giriśantābhicākaśīhi ||

yāmiṣum giriśanta haste bibharsyastave | śivām giritra tām
kuru mā himsīh puruṣam jagat ||

śivena vacasā tvā giriśācchā vadāmasi | yathā naḥ sarvām
ijjagad ayaksmam sumanā asat ||

adhyavocad adhivaktā prathamo daivyo bhisak | ahīmś ca
sarvāñ jambhayan sarvāś ca yātudhānyah ||

asau yastāmro aruna uta babhruh sumaṅgalah | ye cemām
rudrā abhito diksu śritāh sahasraśo 'vaisām heda īmahe ||

asau yo 'vasarpati nīlagrīvo vilohitah | utainam gopā adrśann
adrśann udahāryah | utainam viśvā bhūtāni sa drsto mrdayāti
naḥ ||

namo astu nīlagrīvāya sahasrākṣāya mīdhuse | atho ye asya
satvāno 'ham tebhyo 'karan namah ||

pramuñca dhanvanas tvam ubhayor ārtniyor jyām | yāś ca te hasta isavah parā tā bhagavo vapa ||

avatatya dhanus tvagm sahasrākṣa śatesudhe | niśīrya
śalyānām mukhā śivo naḥ sumanā bhava ||

vijyam dhanuḥ kapardino viśalyo bāṇavām uta | aneśann
asyesava ābhur asya nisaṅgathih ||

yā te hetir mīdhustama haste babhūva te dhanuḥ | tayā 'smān
viśvatas tvam ayaksmayā paribbhuj a ||

namaste astv āyudhāyānātātāya dhṛsnave | ubhābhyām uta te
namo bāhubhyām tava dhanvane ||

pari te dhanvano hetir asmān yṛṇaktu viśvataḥ | atho ya
isudhis tavāre asmann idhehi tam || 1 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 2

namaste astu bhagavan viśveśvarāya mahādevāya tryambakāya tripurāntakāya trikāgnikālāya kālāgnirudrāya nīlakanthāya mrtyuñjayāya sarveśvarāya sadāśivāya
śrīmanmahādevāya namaḥ |

namo hiranyabāhave senānye diśām ca pataye namo

namo vrksebhya harikeśebhyah paśūnām pataye namo

namaḥ śaspiñjarāya tvīṣimate pathīnām pataye namo

namo babhluśāya vivyādhine ' nnānām pataye namo

namo harikeśāyopavītine puṣṭānām pataye namo

namo bhavyasya hetyai jagatām pataye namo

namo rudrāyātātāvine ksetrānām pataye namo

namaḥ sūtāyāhantya vanānām pataye namo

namo rohitāya sthapataye vrksānām pataye namo

namo mantrine vānijāya kaksānām pataye namo

namo bhuvantaye vārivaskrtāya ausadhīnām pataye namo

nama uccairghosāyākrandayate pattīnām pataye namo

namaḥ krtsnavītāya dhāvate sattvanām pataye namaḥ || 2 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 3

namaḥ śahamānāya nivyādhina āvyādhinīnām pataye namo

namaḥ kakubhāya nisaṅgine stenānām pataye namo

namo nisaṅgina iśudhimate taṣkarānām pataye namo

namo vañcate parivancate stāyūnām pataye namo

namo ñicerave paricarāyāranyānām pataye namo

namaḥ srkāvibhyo jighāmsadbhyo musnatām pataye namo

namo ṣimadbhyo naktam caradbhyaḥ prakrntānām pataye

namo

nama uṣṇīṣine giricarāya kuluñcānām pataye namo

nama iṣumadbhyo dhanvāvibhyaś ca vo namo

nama ātanvānebhyah pratidadhānebhyaś ca vo namo

nama āyacchadbhyo visrjadbhyaś ca vo namo

namo syadbhyo vidhyadbhyaś ca vo namo

nama āsīnebhyah śayānebhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ svapadbhyo jāgradbhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ tisthadbhyo dhāvadbhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ sabhābhyah sabhāpatibhyaś ca vo namo

namo aśvebhyo 'śvapātibhyaś ca vo namaḥ || 3 ||

nama āvyādhinībhyo vividhyantībhyaś ca vo namo

nama ugaṇābhyaś ṭrmhatībhyaś ca vo namo

namo grtsebhyo grtsapatibhyaś ca vo namo

namo vrātebhyo vrātapatibhyaś ca vo namo

namo ganebhyo ganapatibhyaś ca vo namo

namo virūpebhyo viśvarūpebhyaś ca vo namo

namo mahadbhyaḥ ksullakebhyaś ca vo namo

namo rathibhyo 'rathebhyaś ca vo namo

namo rathebhyo rathapatibhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ senābhyah senānibhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ ksattrbhyah saṅgrahītrbhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ taksabhyo rathakārebhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ kulālebhyah karmārebhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ puñjīstebhyo nisādebhyaś ca vo namo

nama isukrdbhyo dhanvakrdbhyaś ca vo namo

namo mrgayubhyah śvanibhyaś ca vo namo

namaḥ śvabhyah śvapatibhyaś ca vo namaḥ || 4 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 5

namo bhavāya ca rudrāya ca

namaḥ śarvāya ca paśupataye ca

namo nīlagrīvāya ca śitikanthāya ca

namaḥ kapardine ca vyuptakeśāya ca

namaḥ sahasrāksāya ca śatadhanvane ca

namo giriśāya ca śipivistāya ca

namo mīdhustamāya cesumate ca

namo hrasvāya ca vāmanāya ca

namo brhate ca varsīyase ca

namo vrddhāya ca samvrddhvane ca

namo agriyāya ca prathamāya ca

nama āśave cājirāya ca

namaḥ śīghriyāya ca śībhyāya ca

nama ūrmyāya cāvasvanyāya ca

namaḥ śrotasyāya ca dvīpyāya ca || 5 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 6

namo jyeṣṭhāya ca kaṇiṣṭhāya ca

namaḥ pūrvajāya cāparajāya ca

namo madhyamāya cāpagalbhāya ca

namo jaghanyāya ca budhniyāya ca

namaḥ sobhyāya ca pratisaryāya ca

namo yāmyāya ca ksemyāya ca

nama urvaryāya ca khalyāya ca

namaḥ ślokyāya cāvasānyāya ca

namo vanyāya ca kaksyāya ca

namaḥ śravāya ca pratiśravāya ca

nama āśusenāya cāśurathāya ca

namaḥ śūrāya cāvabhindate ca

namo varmine ca varūthine ca

namo bilmine ca kavacine ca

namaḥ śrutāya ca śrutasenāya ca || 6 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 7

namo dundubhyāya cāhananyāya ca

namo dhṛsnave ca pramrśāya ca

namo dūtāya ca prahitāya ca

namo nisaṅgine cesudhimate ca

namaḥ tīkṣṇeṣave cāyudhine ca

namaḥ svāyudhāya ca sudhanvane ca

namaḥ srutyāya ca pathyāya ca

namaḥ kātyāya ca nīpyāya ca

namaḥ sūdyāya ca sarasyāya ca

namo nādyāya ca vaiśantāya ca

namaḥ kūpyāya cāvatyāya ca

namo varṣyāya cāvarṣyāya ca

namo meghyāya ca vidyutyāya ca

nama īdhriyāya cātapyāya ca

namo vātyāya ca resmiyāya ca

namo vāstavyāya ca vāstupāya ca || 7 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 8

namaḥ somāya ca rudrāya ca

namaḥ tāmrāya cārunāya ca

namaḥ śaṅgāya ca paśupataye ca

nama ugrāya ca bhīmāya ca

namo agrevadhāya ca dūrevadhāya ca

namo hantre ca hanīyase ca

namo vrksebhyo harikeśebhyo namaḥ tārāya

namaḥ śambhave ca mayobhave ca

namaḥ śaṅkarāya ca mayaskarāya ca

namaḥ śivāya ca śivatarāya ca

namaḥ tīrthyāya ca kūlyāya ca

namaḥ pāryāya cāvāryāya ca

namaḥ prataraṇāya cottaraṇāya ca

nama ātāryāya cālādyāya ca

namaḥ śaspyāya ca phenyāya ca

namaḥ sikatyāya ca pravāhyāya ca || 8 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 9

nama irinyāya ca prapathyāya ca

namaḥ kimśilāya ca ksayanāya ca

namaḥ kapardine ca pulastaye ca

namo gosthyāya ca grhyāya ca

namaḥ talpyāya ca gehyāya ca

namaḥ kātyāya ca gahvaresthāya ca

namo hradayyāya ca nivespyāya ca

namaḥ pāmsavyāya ca rajasyāya ca

namaḥ śuskyāya ca harityāya ca

namo lopyāya colapyāya ca

nama ūrvyāya ca sūrmyāya ca

namaḥ parnyāya ca parnaśadyāya ca

namo paguramānāya cābhighnate ca

nama ākkhigate ca prakkhigate ca

namo vah kirikebhyo devānām hrdayebhyo

namo viksīṇakebhyo namo vicīvatkebhyo

nama ānirhatebhyo nama āmīvatkebhyaḥ || 9 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 10

drāpe andhasaspate daridran nīlaloḥita |

esām purusānām esām paśūnām mā bher mā ro mo esām

kiñcanāmamat |

yā te rudra śivā tanūh śivā viśvāha bhesajī |

śivā rudrasya bhesajī tayā no mṛda jīvase ||

imām rudrāya tavase kapardine ksayadvīrāya prabharāmahe

matim |

yathā naḥ śamasad dvipade catuspade viśvam pustam grāme

asminn anāturam ||

mrđā no rudrota no mayaskrdhi ksayadvīrāya namasā vidhema
te |

yac cham ca yoś ca manur āyaje pitā tad aśyāma tava rudra
pranītau ||

mā no mahāntam uta mā no arbhakam mā na uksantam uta
mā na uksitam |

mā no ' vadhīh pitaram mōta mātaram priyā mā nas tanuvo
rudra rīrisah ||

mā nas toke tanaye mā na āyusi mā no goṣu mā no aśvesu
rīrisah |

yīrān mā no rudra bhāmito ' vadhīr haviṣmanto namasā
vidhema te || 10 ||

NAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 11

sahasrāni sahasraśo ye rudrā adhi bhūmyām |

teṣām sahasrayojane ' vadhanvāni tanmaṣi ||

asmin mahaty arnave ' ntarikse bhavā adhi |

nīlagrīvāh śitikanthāh śarvā adhah kṣamācarāh |

nīlagrīvāh śitikanthā divam rudrā upaśritāh |

ye yrkṣeṣu saṣpinjarā nīlagrīvā vilohitāh |

ye bhūtānām adhipatayo viśikhāśah kapardinah |

ye anneṣu vividhyanti pātreṣu pibato janān |

ye pathām pathiraksaya ailabrdā yavyudhah |

ye tīrthāni pracaranti srkāvantō nisaṅginah |

ye etāvantaś ca bhūyāmsaś ca diśo rudrā vitasthire |

teṣām sahasrayojane ' vadhānvāni tanmasi ||

namo rudrebhyo ye prthivyām ye ' ntarikse ye divi |

yesām annam vāto varsam isavas tebhyo daśa prācīr daśa

daksinā daśa pratīcīr daśodīcīr daśordhvās |

tebhyo namaḥ te no mrdayantū te yaṁ dvismo yaś ca no dvesti

taṁ vo jambhe dadhāmi || 11 ||

Chamakam (11 Anuvākas)

Complete traditional text. Each request carries the sense “may this be mine” (ca me). Click underlined words for definitions.

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 1

om agnāvisnū sajosase mā vardhantu vāṅgīrah | dyumnair
vājebhir āgatam |

vājaś ca me prasavaś ca me prayatiś ca me prasitiś ca me

dhītiś ca me kratuś ca me svaraś ca me ślokaś ca me

śrāvaś ca me śrutiś ca me jyotiś ca me suvaś ca me

prānaś ca me 'pānaś ca me vyānaś ca me 'suś ca me

cittañ ca ma ādhītañ ca me vāk ca me manaś ca me

caksuś ca me śrotrañ ca me dakṣaś ca me balañ ca me

ojaś ca me sahaś ca me āyus ca me jarā ca me

ātmā ca me tanuś ca me śarma ca me varma ca me

' ṅgāni ca me ' sthāni ca me parūmsi ca me śarīrāni ca me || 1

||

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 2

jaisthyañ ca ma ādhipatyañ ca me

manyuś ca me bhāmaś ca me 'maś ca me ' mbhaś ca me

jēṃā ca me mahimā ca me varimā ca me prathimā ca me varṣmā ca me drāghuyā ca me yṛddhañ ca me yṛddhiś ca me satyañ ca me śraddhā ca me jagac ca me dhanañ ca me vaśaś ca me tvīś ca me krīdā ca me modaś ca me jātañ ca me janīsyamānañ ca me sūktañ ca me sukrtañ ca me vittañ ca me vedyañ ca me bhūtañ ca me bhaviṣya ca me sugañ ca me supathañ ca me rddhañ ca ma rddhiś ca me
klptañ ca me klptiś ca me matiś ca me sumatiś ca me || 2 ||

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 3

śam ca me mayaś ca me priyañ ca me 'nukāmaś ca me kāmaś
ca me
ṣaumanasaś ca me bhadrañ ca me śreyaś ca me vasyaś ca me
yaśaś ca me bhagaś ca me dravinañ ca me yañtā ca me dhartā ca me ksemaś ca me dhṛtiś ca me viśvañ ca me mahāś ca me samvic ca me jñātrañ ca me
sūś ca me prasūś ca me sīrañ ca me layaś ca me

rtañ ca me ' mrtañ ca me ' yaksmañ ca me ' nāmayac ca me jīvātuś ca me dīrghāyutvañ ca me ' namitrañ ca me ' bhayañ ca me

sugañ ca me śayanañ ca me sūśā ca me sudinañ ca me || 3 ||

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 4

ūrka ca me sūnrtā ca me payaś ca me rasaś ca me

ghrtañ ca me madhu ca me sagdhiś ca me sapītiś ca me

krśiś ca me vrstiś ca me jaitrañ ca ma audbhidyāñ ca me

rayiś ca me rāyaś ca me pustañ ca me pustiś ca me

vibhu ca me prabhu ca me bahu ca me bhūyaś ca me

pūrnañ ca me pūrnatarañ ca me ' ksitiś ca me

kūyavāś ca me ' nnāñ ca me ' ksuc ca me

vrīhayaś ca me yavāś ca me māsāś ca me tilāś ca me

mudgāś ca me khalyāś ca me godhūmāś ca me masurāś ca me

priyaṅgavaś ca me ' navaś ca me śyāmākāś ca me nīvārāś ca

me || 4 ||

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 5

āsmā ca me mṛttikā ca me girayaś ca me parvatāś ca me
śikatāś ca me vanaspatayaś ca me hiranyañ ca me 'yaś ca me sīsañ ca me trapuś ca me śyāmañ ca me lohañ ca me agniś ca me āpaś ca me vīrudhaś ca me oṣadhayaś ca me krstapacyañ ca me krstapacyañ ca me grāmyāś ca me paśava āranyāś ca yajñena kalpantām vittañ ca me vittīś ca me bhūtañ ca me bhūtiś ca me vasu ca me vasatiś ca me karma ca me śaktiś ca me
' rthaś ca me emaś ca me itiś ca me gatiś ca me || 5 ||

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 6

agniś ca ma indraś ca me
somaś ca ma indraś ca me
savitā ca ma indraś ca me sarasvatī ca ma indraś ca me
pūsā ca ma indraś ca me

brhaspatiś ca ma indraś ca me

mitraś ca ma indraś ca me

varunaś ca ma indraś ca me

tvastā ca ma indraś ca me

dhātā ca ma indraś ca me

viṣṇuś ca ma indraś ca me

' śvinau ca ma indraś ca me

marutaś ca ma indraś ca me

viśve ca me devā indraś ca me

prthivī ca ma indraś ca me

' ntariksañ ca ma indraś ca me

dyauś ca ma indraś ca me

diśaś ca ma indraś ca me

mūrdhā ca ma indraś ca me

prajāpatiś ca ma indraś ca me || 6 ||

amśuś ca me raśmiś ca me 'dābhyaś ca me ' dhipatiś ca me

upāmsuś ca me 'ntaryāmaś ca me

aindravāyavaś ca me maitrāvarunaś ca me

āśvinaś ca me pratiprasthānaś ca me

śukraś ca me manthī ca me

āgrayanaś ca me vaiśvadevaś ca me

dhruvaś ca me vaiśvānaraś ca me

rtugrahāś ca me 'tigrāhyāś ca me

aindrāgnaś ca me vaiśvadevaś ca me

marutvatīyāś ca me māhendraś ca me

ādityaś ca me sāvitraś ca me

sārasvataś ca me pausnaś ca me

pātnīvataś ca me hāriyojanaś ca me || 7 ||

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 8

idhmaś ca me barhiś ca me vediś ca me dhisniyāś ca me

srucaś ca me camasās ca me grāvānaś ca me svaravaś ca me

uparavāś ca me ' dhisavane ca me

dronakalaśaś ca me vāyavyāṇi ca me

pūtabhrc ca ma ādhavanīyaś ca me

āgnīdhrañ ca me havirdhānañ ca me

grhāś ca me sadaś ca me purodāśāś ca me

paṇatāś ca me ' vabhrthaś ca me svagākāraś ca me || 8 ||

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 9

agniś ca me gharmaś ca me 'rkaś ca me

sūryaś ca me prāṇaś ca me 'śvamedhaś ca me

prthivī ca me ' ditiś ca me ditiś ca me

dyauś ca me śakvarīr aṅgulayo diśaś ca me

yajñena kalpantām rk ca me sāma ca me stomaś ca me

yajuś ca me dīksā ca me tapaś ca ma rtuś ca me

vratañ ca me ' horātrayor vrstyā brhadhrathantare ca me

yajñena kalpetām || 9 ||

CHAMAKAM — ANUVĀKA 10

garbhāś ca me vatsāś ca me

tryaviś ca me tryavī ca me

dityavāt ca me dityauhī ca me

pañcāviś ca me pañcāvī ca me

trivatsaś ca me trivatsā ca me

turyavāt ca me turyauhī ca me

pasthavāt ca me pasthauhī ca me

uksā ca me vaśā ca me

rsabhaś ca me vahaś ca me ' nadvāñ ca me

dhenuś ca ma āyur yajñena kalpatām

prāno yajñena kalpatām apāno yajñena kalpatām

vyāno yajñena kalpatām caksur yajñena kalpatām

śrotram yajñena kalpatām mano yajñena kalpatām

vāg yajñena kalpatām ātmā yajñena kalpatām

yajño yajñena kalpatām || 10 ||

ekā ca me tisraś ca me pañca ca me sapta ca me

nava ca ma ekādaśa ca me trayodaśa ca me pañcadaśa ca me

saptadaśa ca me navadaśa ca ma ekavimśatiś ca me

trayovimśatiś ca me pañcavimśatiś ca me saptavimśatiś ca me navavimśatiś ca ma ekatrimśac ca me trayastrimśac ca me

catasraś ca me 'ṣṭau ca me dvādaśa ca me sodaśa ca me

vimśatiś ca me caturvimśatiś ca me 'stāvimśatiś ca me

dvātrimśac ca me ṣattrimśac ca me catvārimśac ca me catuścatvārimśac ca me stācatvārimśac ca

me

vājaś ca prasavaś cā pijaś ca

kratuś ca suvaś ca mūrdhā ca

vyaśniyaś cā ntyāyanaś cā ntyaś ca

bhauvanaś ca bhuvanaś cā dhipatiś ca || 11 || om śāntih

śāntih śāntih ||

Full traditional text is from the Taittirīya Saṃhitā (public domain). Many words (including particles such as ca, me, te, astu) are clickable.

← Back to Contents

The Namakam Journey

---

Introduction

Before the chanting begins, the aspirants sit in silence, upright, with the spine aligned between the earth and sky, ready for the journey of Namakam to unfold from their inner being.

Each Anuvaka is a progressive purification in which the seeker moves from multiplicity to oneness, from invoking Rudra as a distant power to realizing Him as the very Self.

1st Anuvaka — Pacifying the Divine Wrath (Divine Anger as Grace)

"O Rudra, lay down Your bow; be gentle with Your devotee."

The seeker begins their spiritual journey by facing the immense, destructive fire of Rudra's anger. This anger is not malicious; rather, it represents the fiery dissolution of the seeker's karmic impurities and egoic delusions. The seeker bows down to the weapons of the Lord, recognizing that His wrath is actually the initial form of His grace, dismantling their identification with the limited self.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka is a prayer to Lord Rudra to pacify His anger (manyu) against our transgressions. The chanter bows to His arrows (ishhave), His bow (dhanvane), and His two hands (baahubhyaam). It prays that His weapons become auspicious (shivaa) and peaceful, that His bow become unstrung and His arrows remain inside His quiver, and that He look upon humanity with His most gentle and healing glance.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

At a deeper level, Rudra's bow and arrow represent karma and divine justice. The unstringing of the bow represents the transitioning of the Divine from the outer agent of karmic retribution to the inner counselor of peace. The weapons represent the sharp instruments of self-inquiry (vichara) that pierce through the veil of ignorance (ajnana). By bowing to the anger of Rudra, the seeker surrenders their egoic resistance to spiritual transformation, allowing the divine fire to purify their inner psycho-somatic instruments (anthah-karana). By asking Rudra to calm this force, the seeker accepts personal limitation and surrenders ego, recognizing the need for divine grace in navigating life.

← Back to Contents

2nd Anuvaka — Recognizing the Divine in the Cosmic Greenery (The Lord of Nature)

The seeker opens their eyes to the external world and begins to perceive the Divine in the beauty and grandeur of nature. No longer separate from the cosmos, the seeker experiences Rudra as the green-haired trees, the master of pathways, and the lord of all creatures. This marks the transition from seeing God as a distant deity to seeing Him as the very life force sustaining the natural world.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka bows to Rudra's presence in the physical universe. It praises Him as the golden-armed commander (hiranyabaahave senaanye), the lord of evergreen forests and trees (vrukshebhyo harikeshebhyah pashu-naam pataye), the lord of pathways (pathee-naam pataye), the one who is the lord of food and nourishment (annaa-naam pataye), and the lord of the fields of creation (kshettraa-naam pataye).

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

The trees represent the branching channels of vital life force (nadis) in the subtle body, and Rudra is their green-haired protector, keeping the life-breath flowing smoothly. The "lord of pathways" represents the guidance of the intellect (buddhi) along the path of righteousness (san-marga). Recognizing Rudra in nature represents the expansion of individual consciousness (jivi) to align with the universal cosmic intelligence (prakriti).

← Back to Contents

3rd Anuvaka — Transcending Moral Duality (Rudra as the Outlaw and Thief)

The seeker's understanding is tested as they are challenged to find the Divine in the darkest corners of human behavior: in outlaws, cheats, and thieves. The seeker must transcend conventional moral judgments to realize that Shiva animates even those who live on the fringes of society. Opposites begin to dissolve as the seeker recognizes that all actors in the cosmic play are driven by the same consciousness.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka bows to Rudra as the leader of the transgressors and night-wanderers. It bows to stena (plunderers), taskara (dacoits), stayu (embezzlers), naktham-chara (night-marauders), and kuluncha (house-breakers). The chanter seeks protection from physical theft, burglary, and violence, asking the Lord to shield them from danger.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka represents the total collapse of egoic moral dualism. Rudra in the form of a thief represents the Divine as the supreme stealer of ignorance (ajnana), pride, and worldly attachment. Just as a thief enters silently in the night, the Divine Grace slips into the seeker's quiet heart to steal away the deep-seated illusion of "I and Mine" (ahamkara and mamakara), leaving the soul unmasked in its pure, Atmic state.

← Back to Contents

4th Anuvaka — Recognizing Divinity in All Forms of Labor (The Divine Artisan)

Moving from the fringes back into the social fabric, the seeker sees Rudra in every form of human labor, craft, and effort. The distinctions between high and low professions vanish. The hands that mold clay, hammer iron, or guide chariots are seen as the hands of Shiva. This step integrates the path of action (Karma Yoga), transforming daily labor into a continuous, active worship of the Divine.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka bows to Rudra as the doer behind all occupations and crafts. It bows to staksha (carpenters), rathakaara (chariot-makers), kulala (potters), karmara (blacksmiths), nishaada (hunters/fishermen), ishukrud (arrow-makers), dhanvakrud (bow-makers), as well as dog-keepers (shvapati) and the dogs themselves (shva).

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

The various artisans represent the creative, manifesting powers of the Atma. The potter represents the molding of the physical body (annamaya kosha) from the clay of the earth. The blacksmith represents the tempering of the will through the fires of spiritual austerity (tapas). The dog-keeper and dogs represent the absolute non-dual vision where the highest preceptor and the lowliest creature are seen as the same indwelling Lord (Sarva-bhuta-antaryamin).

← Back to Contents

5th Anuvaka — Recognizing the Cosmic Flow of Energy (Rudra in Liquid Form)

The seeker's awareness deepens from human activity to the fluid dynamics of life itself. Rudra is experienced in the running waters, the waves of the sea, the silent pools, and the islands. The seeker aligns with the great evolutionary cycle of the cosmos; that of creation, preservation, dissolution, bondage, and liberation, understanding that all are the rhythmic movements of Shiva's dance.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka bows to Rudra in liquid forms and natural transitions. It bows to Him as present in urmya (waves), strotasya (running streams), dveepya (islands), and as the one who represents bhava (birth) and rudra (the dispeller of sorrow/one who makes us cry). It also praises Him as the short (hrasva), the dwarf (vamana), the old in wisdom (vruddha), and the fast-moving waves of the waterfall (sheeghriya).

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Running waters represent the constant flow of consciousness (chitta) through the subtle channels. The waves represent the fluctuations of thought (vrittis), while the island represents the unshakable stability of the Witness (sakshi) amid the river of life. The five divine activities of Shiva (creation, preservation, destruction, obscuration, and grace) are realized as the respiratory rhythm of the universe, aligning the seeker's individual vital breath (prana) with the cosmic breath.

← Back to Contents

6th Anuvaka — The Lord of Time and Destiny (Rudra as the Source and Essence)

Here, the seeker encounters Rudra as Time (Kala) itself, bridging the past, present, and future. The seeker experiences the Divine as both the origin and the final destination of all things. By finding Shiva in the eldest and the youngest, the beginning and the end, the seeker's consciousness expands beyond the limitations of linear time into the timeless eternity of Vedanta.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka identifies Rudra with the passage of time and the structures of destiny. It bows to Him as jyeshhta (the eldest), kanishta (the youngest), poorvaja (the firstborn), aparaja (the lastborn), madhyama (the middle-aged), and budhniya (the root or foundation). It also praises Him as present in the green fields (urvarya), the threshing floors (khalya), the sacred Vedic hymns (shlokya), and the final forest retreats (vanya).

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

The eldest and youngest represent the unborn (Ajata) and the newly manifested aspects of the soul. The green fields and threshing floors represent the field of karma (kshetra) and the harvesting of spiritual merit through self-realization. By recognizing Rudra as the root and the crown of time, the seeker dissolves their anxiety about death and decay, finding absolute refuge in the birthless, deathless Atma.

← Back to Contents

7th Anuvaka — The All-Pervading Storm of Consciousness (The Lord of the Elements)

The seeker witnesses Rudra as the immense storm of the universe, raging in the clouds, crackling in the lightning, and pouring in the rain. Rather than fearing the destructive storm, the seeker experiences it as the downpour of supreme grace, washing away the dust of egoic limitations and fertilizing the spiritual soil of the heart.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka celebrates Rudra's presence in atmospheric and elemental phenomena. It bows to Him in dundubhya (the thunder of drums), meghya (the rain cloud), vidyutya (the lightning), varshya (the falling rain), vaatya (the wind storm), and reshmiya (the water storm). It also bows to Him as the protector of dwellings and places (vaastavya and vastupa).

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

The lightning represents the sudden flash of spiritual intuition (jnana-netra) that illuminates the dark night of the soul. The thunder represents the primordial sound of Om (Pranava) echoing within the inner space of the heart (hridayakasa). The rain represents the continuous shower of divine nectar (amrita) falling from the crown chakra, fully saturating and nourishing the subtle system of the purified chanter.

← Back to Contents

8th Anuvaka — The Illumined Path of Devotion and Grace (The Lord as Soma)

The seeker's journey transitions from the terrifying elements of nature to the cool, soothing nectar of divine love and grace. Rudra is recognized as Soma, the source of internal light and ecstasy. This marks a profound inner turning point where the seeker is bathed in the tranquil, peaceful waters of the Lord's supreme goodness (Shiva), melting away all residual traces of fear.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka describes Rudra as the source of peace and the resolver of all sins. It bows to Him as Soma (ever accompanied by Uma/the moon), Rudra (the dispeller of sorrow), taamra (reddish copper), aruna (orange-red), shangha (giver of peace), and pashupati (lord of animals). It praises Him as the ultimate source of tranquility (shambhave), joy (mayobhave), and the supreme goodness (Shivaaya and shivataraaya).

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Soma represents the divine nectar of Ananda (bliss) realized in deep meditation (dhyana). The orange-red color represents the fire of sacrifice where all personal identity is cast away. By bowing to Shiva and Shivatara, the seeker's heart becomes completely purified, turning their daily life into a continuous Hari-parayana where "I and You are One."

← Back to Contents

9th Anuvaka — Celebrations of the Subtle Energies (The Inner Court of Rudra)

The seeker stands in the inner courtyard of the Divine, recognizing the host of subtle forces and spiritual entities that govern the cosmos. The seeker sees these forces not as external deities, but as the magnificent, specialized currents of energy operating within their own subtle body. The entire universe is experienced as a highly coordinated web of divine intelligence.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka celebrates the power and presence of Rudra's attendants (Ganas). It bows to Him in the barren lands (irinya), the highways (prapathya), the gravelly places (kighum-shila), the deep pools (hradayya), the dust particles (rajasya), the parched vegetation (shushkya), and the green foliage (haritya). It bows to the non-decaying and contemplative thinkers (viksheenakebhyo and vichinvatkebhyo).

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

The barren lands and highways represent the dry desert of worldly life (samsara) and the direct, cleared path of spiritual practice (sadhana). The deep pools represent the deep reservoirs of the subconscious mind, which are now illuminated by the inner light. Bowing to the Ganas represents the harmonious integration of all mental faculties and sensory energies under the supreme lordship of the Atma.

← Back to Contents

10th Anuvaka — The Sovereign Prayer of Surrender and Protection (Grace and Well-being)

The seeker makes a direct, personal appeal to Lord Shiva, pleading for total protection, longevity, and spiritual well-being. Having offered everything through the Namakam, the seeker stands completely exposed and vulnerable, asking the Lord to turn His terrible weapons away and reveal only His most gentle, smiling, and beautiful countenance.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This anuvaka is a powerful prayer seeking protection for our families, children, and animals. It addresses Rudra as Draape (one who makes the wicked run/lord of darkness) and neelalohita (blue and red). It begs Him: “do not kill our father, mother, or dear ones (maa no vadhih pitaram...),” “do not injure our children, lifespan, cows, or horses (maana-stoke tanaye...),” and prays that He display His auspicious, healing body (shivaa tanuh) and His tiger skin.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

The prayer to protect the parents, children, and cattle is the consecration of all our relationships and vital assets to the Divine. The “blue and red” throat of Rudra symbolizes the integration of the infinite (Akasa) and the active force of creation (Prana). The unstringing of His weapons represents the complete cessation of mental agitations and karmic lessons, allowing the seeker to rest securely in the soothing, deathless sanctuary of Shiva’s grace.

← Back to Contents

11th Anuvaka — Absolute Merging in the All-Pervading One (Merging the Individual and the Universal)

The seeker's spiritual journey through the Namakam reaches its supreme climax. The individual soul realizes that Lord Rudra is not only present in the storm, the trees, or the outlaws, but is the sole, all-pervading reality interpenetrating every atom of the cosmos. The boundary between the seeker and the Divine permanently collapses. The individual drop merges into the infinite ocean, realizing Soham: "I am He."

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

This final anuvaka acknowledges the thousands of forms of Rudra that exist across the earth, the oceans, the sky, and the cardinal directions. It offers salutations to all these forms: on the earth (pruthivyaam), in space (antarikshey), and in heaven (divi), acknowledging Him in our food (anneshu), the pathways (pathaam), and the holy waters (tirthaani). It concludes by casting all dualistic hatred and enmity into the wide-open mouth of the Lord.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

The thousands of Rudras represent the infinite centers of consciousness (jivas) inhabiting the cosmos, all recognized as expressions of the One Supreme Person (Purusha). Recognizing Rudra in the earth, sky, and heaven is the final realization of non-duality (Advaita), where there is no longer an "I" that seeks and a "God" that is sought. The seeker looks into the mirror of the universe and sees only the face of Shiva, establishing themselves in the eternal, birthless bliss of the Atma.

Key Spiritual Insights from Namakam

- The Alchemy of Ego-Dissolution (Namah): Chanting Namah ("not me" or "not mine") acts as a sacred code to systematically empty the seeker of egoism, pride, and body-consciousness. By surrendering all sense of personal ownership, the seeker purifies their inner vessel to receive the nectar of divine consciousness.
- The Advaitic Vision of All-Pervasive Divinity: The Namakam expands the seeker's vision to perceive the non-dual (Advaita) reality by recognizing divinity immanently in all aspects of existence, including both the sacred and the profane. This recognition of the single, all-pervading Atma in saints, outlaws, and nature alike strips away moralistic judgment and reveals universal oneness.
- Channelling and Purifying the Vital Forces: The vibrational resonance of the eleven anuvakas of the Namakam acts as a powerful energetic purification for the seeker's vital breaths (pranas) and inner soul. Correct chanting aligns and cleanses the subtle energy channels (nadis) and centers (chakras), allowing the spiritual energy to ascend in perfect balance.

Conclusion of the Namakam Journey

The Namakam is the path of progressive ego-dissolution. Beginning with the plea for Rudra to lower His weapons, the seeker is led to recognize the Divine in every form—nature, labor, outlaws, storms, and subtle energies—until the final Anuvaka extinguishes the sense of a separate self. Through the repeated offering of namah (“not mine, Thine”), the individual soul merges into the all-pervading Paramatma, realizing that seeker and sought have always been One.

← Back to Contents

---

The Chamakam Journey

---

Introduction — The Return of Wholeness

The Chamakam is the sacred dialogue of divine fulfillment that follows the profound surrender of the Namakam. Once the seeker has offered Namah (“not mine, Thine”) and dissolved the ego-bound self, the universe is restored to a state of absolute balance. The apparent duality of matter and spirit collapses as the soul begins to receive Cha Me (“and to me be granted”). This is not a list of worldly cravings, but rather the progressive steps of a soul reclaiming its divine nature as a perfect reflection of the Divine.

1st Anuvaka — The Reclamation of Vitality and Breath

The soul begins its reclamation by claiming the vital forces of life: the breath (Prana), speech (Vach), mind (Manas), and sensory perceptions. In the literal text, these are requested as personal attributes, but symbolically, the newly awakened soul realizes these are not the property of a mortal ego, but the cosmic currents of the Divine flowing through a purified container. Having surrendered the illusion of ownership, the seeker knows that the breath of the body is inseparably bound to the primordial cosmic breath of Shiva.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

In the literal Sanskrit text of the first Anuvaka, the chanter requests that various physical and vital faculties be granted: Prana (inhalation), Apana (exhalation), Vyana (diffused breath), the active mind (Manas), speech (Vak), sight (Chakshu), hearing (Srotra), strength, semen, and general bodily vigor. The seeker asks for these faculties to be purified, strengthened, and made robust so that they can enjoy a healthy life and participate effectively in the sacrificial rites.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Symbolically, this represents the purification and reclamation of the Pranamaya Kosha (the vital sheath) and the Manomaya Kosha (the mental sheath). The vital breaths are not merely physical respiration, but the five-fold cosmic energy currents (Prana, Apana, Vyana, Udana, Samana) that govern the subtle body. By asking for these to be granted (Cha Me), the seeker is aligning their individual prana with the cosmic prana (Prana-Shakti). Speech and the senses are reclaimed as consecrated instruments through which divine work can be expressed, transforming the biological frame into a living temple.

← Back to Contents

2nd Anuvaka — The Reclaiming of Divine Lordship

Here, the literal requests for prestige, prominence, and influence are transformed into the reclamation of the soul's innate spiritual majesty (Aishwaryam). The seeker transitions from wanting worldly dominance over others to realizing the sovereign lordship of the Atma. The seeker no longer begs to rule a mortal realm but stands established in the absolute overlordship of Shiva.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

The literal meaning of the second Anuvaka lists requests for superiority (Jyaishthyam), lordship over men (Adhipatyam), righteous anger or resentment (Manyu), internal heat or passion (Bhamah), water, wealth, fame, greatness, and general prominence in society. The ritualistic intent is to secure leadership, respect, and authority within the community, alongside the physical resources like clean water and material wealth necessary to sustain a noble lifestyle.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

On an esoteric level, this Anuvaka describes the dawning of Atmic sovereignty and the conquest of the ego. “Seniority” and “lordship” represent establishing the Atma as the supreme ruler over the unruly senses and thoughts. “Anger” (Manyu) and “internal heat” (Bhamah) symbolize the fire of spiritual intensity (Tapas) and discrimination (Viveka) required to burn away ignorance (Ajnana). “Wealth” and “greatness” are interpreted as Sadguna (divine virtues) and Atma-Jnana (Self-knowledge), which are the only permanent treasures. The seeker shifts from outward worldly power to inward mastery as the Witness (Sakshi).

← Back to Contents

3rd Anuvaka — The Alignment of Inner Qualities

In this step, the literal demands for physical strength, mental poise, and companions are recognized as the alignment of the soul’s inner qualities (Gunas). Having offered its mental agitations to the fire of inquiry, the soul is granted the cool rays of spiritual peace (Santi) and love (Prema). The seeker understands that true strength is not muscular force, but the stabilizing of the intellect (Buddhi) and mind into pure serenity (Sathwa). The soul stands firm, reflecting the untarnished beauty of the seers.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

Literally, the third Anuvaka prays for happiness in both worlds (Sham and Mayas), affection (Priyam), desires (Kamah), friends, relatives, protection, safety, physical strength, and a steady intellect. It is a prayer for a harmonious, secure, and affectionate social environment where the seeker is surrounded by supportive companions, safe from enemies, and endowed with physical health and intellectual sharpness.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Symbolically, this signifies the alignment of the Vijnanamaya Kosha (the sheath of intellect) and the purification of the heart. The “happiness” requested represents the highest spiritual bliss (Ananda) that remains undisturbed by external dualities. “Desire” (Kama) is sublimated from selfish lust to a divine yearning for union with the Supreme. “Friends and relatives” symbolize the realization of universal unity and the brotherhood of all living souls (Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam). Intellectual sharpness is sought not for worldly debate, but to awaken the Agnya Chakra for inner seeing (Dhi).

← Back to Contents

4th Anuvaka — The Sacramental Nature of Sustenance

The literal request for grains, food (Anna), and sweet water represents the soul transcending the basic hunger of the body. It recognizes that sustenance is not meant to cater to greed or mere physical preservation (udaraposhana), but is the sacred fuel that makes the inner sacrifice (Yajna) possible. Having surrendered its physical survival to the Lord, the soul is nourished by the nectar of Jnana (wisdom). Every physical grain is experienced as an oblation offered to the Jatharagni—the divine fire burning within.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

The fourth Anuvaka is literally focused on agricultural abundance and sustenance. It requests food (Anna), milk, sweet juices, honey, ghee, and various types of grains (such as wheat, barley, wild grains, sesame, and beans). It also prays for timely rain, fertile soil, and hospitality (Sunruta), ensuring that the community remains free from famine, hunger, and poverty.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Esoterically, this Anuvaka details the spiritual nourishment of the seeker. Anna (food) is recognized as Brahman Himself (Annam Brahma), the primordial matter that sustains life. Ghee, honey, and juices symbolize the flow of divine nectar (Amrita) and the sweet flavor of love (Prema-rasa) that flows when the heart is purified. The grains represent the various levels of spiritual experiences and realizations that are cultivated through dedicated practice (Sadhana). Nourishing the physical frame is treated as a sacred ritual—an offering into the internal fire (Jatharagni) which is the Lord Himself. True prosperity is recognized as a divine communion with nature's bounty.

← Back to Contents

5th Anuvaka — Spirit Reclaiming and Sanctifying Matter

Requesting clay, stones, mountains, and natural resources, the soul moves from seeing nature (Prakriti) as an external landscape to be exploited, to seeing it as the very garment of God. It realizes that the external world is not inert matter separate from spirit, but a divine canvas reflecting the Chidatman. The stones are recognized as the sacred Atma-linga, and the hills as the majestic steps of the Creator. Matter is redeemed as the soul embraces the entire cosmos as Shiva's playground.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

In the fifth Anuvaka, the chanter literally prays for geological and mineral wealth: clay (Mrittika), stones (Ashma), sand, mountains, hills, gold (Hiranyam), iron (Ayas), copper (Syamam), lead (Sisam), tin (Trapu), and other natural elements. Literally, this ensures that the kingdom is blessed with abundant natural building materials and valuable ores for tools, currency, and prosperity.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Esoterically, this represents the complete spiritualization of the physical universe. Clay and stones represent the stability and steadfastness of the mind (Sthirata), while mountains symbolize the high, unshakeable peaks of spiritual consciousness. The metals carry deep psychological meaning: gold represents the pure, self-luminous, untarnishable nature of the Atma (Param-jyothi); iron represents physical and mental resilience; copper and lead represent the processing and transmutation of raw base qualities (Tamas) into refined spiritual gold through Tapas. Nature is no longer viewed as dead matter (Jada), but as Shiva's vibrant energy (Shakti).

← Back to Contents

6th Anuvaka — The Harmonious Office of the Devas

Calling upon the Vedic deities like Indra, Agni, Soma, and Varuna, the soul steps beyond mythological divisions. The seeker understands that these deities are not external masters to be bribed, but the divine, governing officers of the cosmos operating within their own heart. “And to me be granted” is the realization that the fire of Agni is the light of one’s own soul, and the cool nectar of Soma is one’s innate Ananda. The inner sky (Hridayakasa) becomes the theater where all cosmic forces dance in perfect harmony.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

The sixth Anuvaka, known as the Ardhendram section, invokes a long list of Vedic deities, always coupling them with Indra: Agnischa me Indrascha me, Somascha me Indrascha me, Savitrascha me Indrascha me, Varunascha me Indrascha me... Literally, it prays to Agni (Fire), Soma (Moon/Nectar), Savitr (Sun/Inspiration), Sarasvati, Pushan, Brhaspati, Mitra, Varuna, and others, asking that they remain aligned with Indra, the king of gods, to bring prosperity and success to the sacrifice.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Esoterically, this Anuvaka represents the integration of the microcosm with the macrocosm. The deities are the presiding cosmic principles (Devatas) that govern the human body and mind: Agni governs speech and digestion, the Sun governs vision, Chandra governs the mind, and Varuna represents the bodily fluids. Coupling each deity with “Indra” represents aligning all sensory and biological functions with the Supreme Lordship (Indrascha me) of the Atma. It is the realization that the body is a cosmic playground where the devas work in perfect harmony under the direction of the Indwelling Spirit.

7th Anuvaka — Consecration of the Subtle Cosmic Rays

In this section, the literal request for the specialized Soma Grahās (the sacred cups and scoops of Soma juice such as Amshu, Rashmi, Upamshu, and Antaryama) representing distinct cosmic rays and divine forces is esoterically understood as the purification and alignment of the soul's subtle pranic channels (Nadis). These vessels are not mere physical implements of an external ritual; they are the vessels of consciousness within, designated to receive the divine nectar (Amritam) of the Atma. By asking for these celestial vessels, the seeker opens the subtle spiritual nervous system to receive the direct rays of divine illumination.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

The seventh Anuvaka literally lists 29 different types of sacred vessels, scoops, and cups used for pressing, pouring, and holding the Soma juice during the high Soma sacrifices (such as Amshu, Upamshu, Antaryama, Aindra-Vayava, Maitra-Varuna, Ashvina, Shukra, Manthin, Agrayana, Vaishvadeva...). In the ritual context, these are requested to ensure the flawless and complete performance of the elaborate fire ceremonies.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Symbolically, the Soma juice represents the nectar of immortality (Amrita) or the spiritual ecstasy (Ananda) flowing from the crown chakra (Sahasrara). The various vessels (Grahās) represent the subtle channels (Nadis) and energy centers (Chakras) of the subtle body (Pranamaya Kosha). Requesting these vessels to be granted represents the complete purification and calibration of the subtle nervous system (including the Ida, Pingala, and Sushumna Nadis), making the seeker a fit and sturdy vessel capable of receiving and containing the intense downpour of divine grace and consciousness.

← Back to Contents

8th Anuvaka — Dedication of the Instruments of Action

Asking literally for the physical implements of sacrifice—the fuel wood (Idhma), sacred grass (Barhi), sacrificial altar (Vedi), wooden spoons (Sruch), cups (Chamasa), and pressing stones (Graavah)—the soul esoterically reconstructs its outer actions into inner realizations. No longer caught in mechanical rituals, the seeker understands that the body itself is the sacrificial altar (Vedi). The senses are the cups (Chamas), and our actions are the offerings cast into the fire of self-sacrifice, transforming daily life into an unbroken, sacred ritual of Hari-parayana.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

The eighth Anuvaka is literally called the Yagna Ayudha (implements of sacrifice) section. It requests the structural elements and tools of the fire sacrifice, such as the sacrificial wood (Idhma), sacred grass (Barhi), the altar (Vedi), the fireplaces (Dishna), the ladles and spoons (Sruch), pressing stones (Gravana), and the wooden cups (Chamasa). These are the essential physical requirements for executing the outer Vedic ritual.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

On a symbolic level, this Anuvaka transforms the physical body of the seeker into the sacrificial altar (Yajna-vedi). The firewood (Idhma) represents the burning away of past impressions (Samskaras) and desires; the sacred grass (Barhi) represents laying down a pure, soft seat of devotion in the heart; the pressing stones (Gravana) symbolize the crushing of the ego-bound intellect to extract the juice of devotion; the ladles (Sruch) represent the Will offering everything into the fire of self-inquiry (Jnana-agni). Every daily action, breath, and thought is cast as an oblation into this inner, spiritual fire.

← Back to Contents

9th Anuvaka — The Integration of All Spiritual Offerings

Prays for the actual sacrifices (Yajnas) themselves, including major rites like Agnishthoma, Atiratra, and Ashvamedha, alongside the four Vedas (Rig, Yajur, Sama, and Atharva). Esoterically, this represents the integration of all paths—Karma (action), Upasana (worship), and Jnana (wisdom)—into a single, unified offering. The Vedas are no longer mere external texts to be mastered, but the living voice of God echoing within the soul, declaring the absolute oneness of the devotee and the Lord.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

The ninth Anuvaka literally prays for the successful execution of the major Vedic sacrifices, such as the Agnishthoma, Atyagnishthoma, Ukthya, Shodashi, Vajapeya, Atiratra, Aptoryama, and the Ashvamedha (horse sacrifice). It also requests mastery over the four Vedas (Rig, Yajur, Sama, and Atharva), along with the mental focus, spiritual power, and vow-keeping capacity needed to maintain these high standards.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Symbolically, the various elaborate sacrifices represent the progressive stages of spiritual evolution and self-realization. The ultimate sacrifice represents the Purna-yajna—the complete offering of the individual soul into the cosmic soul. The request for the four Vedas represents the full awakening of divine wisdom (Jnana) within the purified intellect (Buddhi). The seeker is granted Vairagya (detachment) and Santhi (inner peace), which act as armor, keeping them unshaken amidst the dualities of the world. The soul begins to radiate the self-luminous light of Param-jyothi.

← Back to Contents

10th Anuvaka — Transcending Time and Consecrating Vital Assets

Literally praying for the preservation of life, longevity (Ayush), health, and the welfare of domestic animals and offspring (Garbhas and Vatsas), the soul surrenders all temporal extensions of its existence. The seeker offers their physical life-span and all creations back to the Creator. Realizing that the physical body is a temporary vehicle (caravanserai), the soul transcends the fear of physical decay and death, and claims its birthright of Soham—"I am He".

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

The tenth Anuvaka literally requests physical longevity (Ayush), physical safety, health, cattle, offspring, dairy resources (cows, calves, milk-producing cattle), and the general protection of one's household. It is a prayer for physical and generational continuity, ensuring that the chanter's family and assets are kept healthy, safe, and prosperous.

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

Esoterically, this Anuvaka represents the transition from body-consciousness (Deha-atman) to soul-consciousness (Atma-atman). The request for "long life" is transformed into claiming the immortal, birthless, and deathless nature of the Atma. The cattle (Gau) and calves (Vatsas) symbolize the spiritual senses and the refined insights (Gau also literally means light/intuition) that have been nurtured through Sadhana. Having offered the physical body as a consecrated vehicle for divine work, the seeker is granted the realization of Soham—"I am He"—standing untouched by the modifications of time (Kala) and physical decay.

← Back to Contents

11th Anuvaka — The Cosmic Mathematics of Return

Concluding with the chanting of odd and even numbers, the soul witnesses the ultimate mathematical precision of Shiva's creation. The numbers are not mere quantitative counts, but the rhythmic, cosmic code of Prakriti unfolding into multiplicity and then beautifully folding back into the Absolute. The many have merged back into the One, and the seeker, who once trembled before Rudra, now looks into the mirror of creation and sees only Shiva—realizing that "I and You are One".

LITERAL INTERPRETATION

The eleventh Anuvaka consists of a systematic mathematical chant, requesting odd numbers from 1 to 33 (Eka, Trisra, Pancha, Sapta, Nava...) and even numbers from 4 to 48 (Chatasra, Ashthau, Dvadasha...), representing progression by fours. It concludes with requests for food (Vaja), creation/growth (Prasava), the sun, and the ultimate sacrificial power (Kratu).

SYMBOLIC INTERPRETATION

On the highest esoteric level, this Anuvaka describes the dissolution of multiplicity back into the Absolute Void (Shunya) or Oneness. The odd numbers represent the unfolding of the 24 cosmic principles of Prakriti plus the Atma, while the even numbers represent the rhythmic, cosmic laws (Ritam) that govern the structure of matter. This mathematical sequence symbolizes the divine geometry of creation. In this final step, the seeker watches the entire numerical code of the universe fold back, step by step, into the primordial One. The duality of "Spirit vs. Matter" vanishes, and the soul stands as a perfect reflection of Shiva, realizing that "I and Shiva are One" (Sivoham).

← Back to Contents

Key Spiritual Insights from the Chamakam

- The Divine Reclamation (Cha Me): Once the ego is surrendered, the chant Cha Me ("and to me be granted") becomes a dialogue of spiritual reclamation rather than a list of worldly desires. Realizing their oneness with the Divine, the seeker no longer begs as a separate entity but reclaims the entire universe as their divine inheritance.
- Sacralizing the Physical and Mundane (The Inner Yajna): The physical blessings and sacrificial implements requested in the Chamakam symbolically transform the seeker's body into a sacred altar of worship. Every worldly necessity, from food to natural matter, is recognized as holy fuel offered to the divine fire of awareness burning within.
- Cosmic Integration through Rhythmic Code: The mathematical sequence of odd and even numbers in the final anuvaka represents the cosmic rhythm of creation unfolding into diversity and beautifully folding back into absolute oneness. This integration resolves the apparent division between worldly activity and spiritual liberation, revealing them as one unified reality.

Conclusion of the Chamakam Journey

The Chamakam is the path of divine reclamation that follows surrender. Having emptied itself of "mine," the soul receives everything back as "Thine." From the purification of breath and senses, through sovereignty, peace, nourishment, the sanctification of matter, the inner play of the Devas, the alignment of subtle channels, and the consecration of the body as altar, the seeker integrates action, worship, and wisdom. The final mathematical sequence folds multiplicity back into the Absolute, culminating in the realization "I and Shiva are One."

← Back to Contents

---

Unified Conclusion of the Sri Rudram

---

Together, the Sri Rudram stands as the ultimate manual for spiritual ascent, a magnificent two-fold path where the dissolution of the individual self gives rise to the realization of the cosmic Divine. Through the Namakam, the seeker walks the path of Nivritti (detachment and emptying), using the secret code of Namah ("not mine" or "not me") to systematically dismantle the illusions of egoism and body-consciousness until the vessel is entirely purified. Through the Chamakam, the seeker returns via Pravritti (active engagement and fulfillment), utilizing Cha Me to reclaim and sanctify the entire physical universe as a direct expression of the Supreme Spirit.

This reflects the perfect integration of Karma (work), Upasana (worship), and Jnana (wisdom), showing that worldly life is not a prison of bondage to escape, but a sacred, unified field of service where every act is Dharmic. When the sacred vibrations of the Rudram finally dissolve into absolute silence, the illusion of the separate jivi (individual soul) is completely extinguished. The seeker realizes the non-dual truth of Advaita: that the individual, the cosmos (Prakriti), and the Lord (Paramatma) are, and have always been, eternally One.

← Back to Contents

Appendix A: The Science, Practice, and Benefits of Vedic Chanting

---

Vedic mantra chanting is a precise science of sound and cosmic vibration. Sound is physical vibration, and in the human body the passage of breath through various channels regulates and facilitates these internal vibrations. The ancient seers (Rishis) did not intellectually compose the Vedas. Through intense spiritual penance (Tapas) and absolute mental stillness, they transcended the ordinary mind and captured the primordial cosmic vibrations of the universe, translating them into audible sound. Because these mantras are formed from exact cosmic wavelengths, clear phonetic enunciation, correct intonation, and steady rhythm are essential to unlock their latent spiritual power. When chanting is performed with care, it purifies and recharges every cell of the practitioner at the physical, mental, and intellectual levels, while radiating protective, harmonizing energy that works upon the five natural elements (Panchabhutas).

The Importance of Precision

Vedic chanting may be compared to a carefully conducted scientific experiment. If the ingredients in a laboratory are impure or are combined in the wrong sequence or proportion, the intended reaction fails. In the same way, the hymns of the Vedas function as precise sonic formulae. Altering the intonation or even a single syllable changes the vibration completely. Just as a minute shift in an electromagnetic wavelength tunes a radio to an entirely different station, an incorrect swara (tone) or pronunciation alters the frequency of a mantra and may produce an unintended effect. To safeguard the purity of these patterns across thousands of years, the ancient sages developed rigorous, mathematically structured methods of recitation such as Pada, Krama, Jata, and Ghana, ensuring that not a single syllable could be mutated or lost.

The Primacy of Listening (Shruti)

No written script, whether Sanskrit, English, or any other, can fully capture the subtle pitches, breath controls, and living intonations that give a mantra its life force. The written word is static; the mantra is multi-dimensional. For this reason, the Vedas are traditionally called Shruti, “that which is heard.” They are ideally received through the ear rather than the eye. Printed texts remain valuable as aids for memorization and for studying meaning, yet they must never become a substitute for the living sound.

Relying solely on the page without attentive listening risks fixing incorrect pronunciations and weakening the vibratory authenticity of the chant.

The Traditional Method of Learning

Because the written word is limited, Vedic chanting is best learned from an accomplished teacher (Guru or Acharya). The classical method rests on a simple three-step auditory cycle:

1. Hearing (Sravanam) — listening with one-pointed attention to the teacher's pronunciation, rhythm, and breath.
2. Repeating (Kirtanam) — reproducing the sounds as closely as possible in speed, tone, and breathing pattern.
3. Correcting through Practice — receiving precise feedback and refining the chant through disciplined repetition.

Today this authentic lineage remains accessible. High-quality recordings, classes, and resources from Prasanthi Nilayam and the Sri Sathya Sai Organisations worldwide offer a supportive global pathway for sincere seekers of every background.

Benefits Across Levels

The fruits of regular chanting appear on physical, mental, and spiritual planes. Traditionally, hymns such as the Sri Rudram are revered for their power to cleanse residual karma, dissolve deep-seated tendencies, ward off negative influences, and invite prosperity and harmony. Physically, the rhythmic breathing and phonetic patterns calm the nervous system, release muscular tension, regulate heart rate, and support the purification of the bodily systems. Mentally, practitioners commonly report a rapid quieting of the restless mind, greater emotional balance, and a natural descent into inner silence. Even those who simply listen with undivided attention often experience a shift into relaxed alpha and theta brain-wave states, easing the mind into a meditative condition without forced effort.

Steady Perseverance

For those beginning the journey, it is natural to feel challenged by the demands of Sanskrit pronunciation or to wonder, at moments of difficulty, why one is undertaking the practice. Vedic chanting is a lifelong sadhana, a companion for the long path rather than a quick transaction. Just as an infant requires time to walk and to speak, the internalization of Vedic vibration is a gradual training of the soul. Do not demand fruit the moment the seed is planted, and do not doubt the power of the mantra because its work is often quiet and unseen. Steady perseverance joined with a loving heart transforms what may at first feel like a demanding discipline into a source of quiet joy.

The Supreme Role of Love and Grace

Technical accuracy is important, yet the decisive element is the love (Prema) and pure intention that animate the chant. Mechanical precision without feeling is like a well-crafted lamp that lacks oil and flame. Bhagawan Sri Sathya Sai Baba repeatedly taught that the Lord looks not at external perfection but at the unselfish feeling that prompts the act. When the heart is filled with devotion, a sincere desire for the welfare of all beings (Loka-kshema), and childlike trust, Divine Grace is invoked. While a careless technical error in a dry, intellectual recitation may distort the frequency, a mistake made in a chant offered with innocent love is sanctified and neutralized by Grace. Ultimately, the vibrations of love and surrender transcend every mechanical limitation and draw the seeker into the source of all sound: the eternal, blissful reality of the Divine.

Appendix B: Ekadasha Rudram

---

Introduction: The Call of Rudra

Having explored the philosophical depths of the Namakam and Chamakam as an inner journey of consciousness, the following section provides the ritual foundation, preparatory disciplines, and collective etiquette for Ekadasha Rudram, which is the collective recitation of the Rudram by chanting all 11 anuvakas of the Namakam, each time followed by an orderly chanting of one Anuvaka of the Chamakam until 11 cycles are completed.

The power of collective chanting from the heart with each soul calling out to its own higher Self elevates the entire gathering, and indeed the entire community and beyond.

The Ekadasha Rudram reminds us that divinity pervades both the fierce and the gentle; chanting together helps dissolve the illusion of separation. As the elevenfold repetition unfolds, each participant becomes a note in the cosmic symphony of Rudra.

The Preparatory Nyasas: Laghunyasa in Narrative Form

Before the chanting begins, the seeker performs the Nyasa, which is a ritual of sanctification. The Sanskrit word nyasa means “to place” or “to consecrate.” Symbolically, the seeker is placing divine consciousness into every part of the body, transforming it into a living temple of the Divine.

The chanter sits upright, breathing steadily, eyes inward. With the right hand, the sacred syllables are placed upon the head, the eyes, the heart, and the limbs. Each touch is a reminder that the Divine already resides within. The body becomes the altar; the breath, the offering; awareness, the flame.

This is the Laghunyasa, the “short consecration,” which in its simplicity holds a profound mystery: the realization that there is no outside Deity to invoke, that Rudra dwells in every nerve and cell. When performed with attention, the practitioner feels the current of life awaken along the spine, the bow of energy gently vibrating as the Kundalini stirs. One becomes both archer and target, both devotee and the Divine aimed toward Self.

Kara and Brahma Nyasas: The Gesture of Alignment

Following the Laghunyasa, the Kara Nyasa (“placing upon the hands”) and Brahma Nyasa (“placing upon the Self”) refine this awareness. As mantras are traced on each finger, the hands, instruments of action, are purified to serve only truth and compassion.

When the palm is touched, the seeker recalls that every act, whether offering food, service, or prayer, becomes sacred when done with selflessness. As the heart and head are touched, the Brahma Nyasa aligns thought, feeling, and will with the rhythm of the Infinite. The bow is strung; consciousness is ready to release its arrow toward the center of Being.

Etiquette and Posture: Holding the Sacred Space

In collective chanting, the harmony of hearts is as important as the harmony of voices:

- Posture: Sit upright with spine aligned, as though the bow of Rudra rests within you. The head is level, eyes softly closed or focused on the text.
- Hands: Hold the book with reverence; turn pages quietly. Avoid unnecessary movement, for each gesture ripples through the group’s rhythm.
- Silence: Between chants, remain still; inner silence carries the resonance deeper than words.
- Dress and Demeanor: Clean attire, gentle speech, and an attitude of humility honor the sanctity of the gathering.
- Collective Awareness: Listen to the lead chanters. Let the breath of the group guide you. When voices merge, the ego dissolves into unity.

In this state, the physical assembly becomes a living mandala: a circle of consciousness surrounding the One Center that is Rudra.

Pronunciation and Chanting Basics

Vedic recitation follows a precise rhythm of long (dirgha) and short (hrasva) syllables, accents, and pauses. Newcomers are encouraged to:

1. Listen first. Allow the tone and pace of experienced chanters to enter your ear and heart.
2. Follow gently. Even if every syllable is not perfect, chant with sincerity and awareness.
3. Respect the flow. Do not hurry or lag; merge your breath with the collective breath.

4. Feel the meaning. Each name of Rudra is a quality within yourself of strength, peace, compassion, fire.

Correct pronunciation refines energy, yet the truest accuracy is the purity of intention.

Reflection: Preparing for the Chant

Close the eyes. Feel the spine as a luminous bow. Let the inhalation draw awareness upward and the exhalation release all tension. Mentally offer this body, mind, and voice to the Divine Archer. Whisper within:

"O Rudra, may my voice become Your song; may every breath praise You."

When the bell sounds or the lead chanter invokes the first mantra, know that the journey has already begun. You are being chanted by the universe itself.

Appendix C: One Word Essence

Namakam: The Unveiling of Oneness through Surrender

| Anuvaka | Essence       | Inner Meaning                                     |
|---------|---------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| 1       | Recognition   | Seeing Rudra in all beings and forms              |
| 2       | Multiplicity  | Bowing to Rudra in every profession, type, action |
| 3       | Contrast      | Honoring Rudra in all dualities and paradoxes     |
| 4       | Surrender     | Letting go of judgment; accepting all roles       |
| 5       | Humility      | Acknowledging forces beyond the ego               |
| 6       | Purification  | Dissolving inner aggressions and control          |
| 7       | Expansion     | Seeing Rudra in nature, space, and time           |
| 8       | Universality  | Recognizing the divine even in the fierce         |
| 9       | Inclusivity   | Offering reverence to all directions and energies |
| 10      | Transcendence | Honoring the unseen and the divine subtlety       |
| 11      | Silence       | Resting in stillness, where all is offered        |

These Anuvakas progressively dismantle the ego's categories. Every namah is a letting-go of the idea "this is not That."

Chamakam: The Recollection of Fullness through Affirmation

| Anuvaka | Essence       | Inner Meaning                                 |
|---------|---------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| 1       | Vitality      | Pure life force cleanses the soul             |
| 2       | Sovereignty   | Reclaiming the inner Atma’s divine majesty    |
| 3       | Alignment     | Pure hearts attain eternal peace              |
| 4       | Nourishment   | Eating food is sacred inner worship           |
| 5       | Matter        | Nature is God’s living, conscious garment     |
| 6       | Cosmos        | Inner divinity guides every worldly force     |
| 7       | Purification  | Cleansing subtle nerves awakens inner healing |
| 8       | Consecration  | The physical body becomes divine sacrifice    |
| 9       | Integration   | Action, worship, and wisdom become one        |
| 10      | Transcendence | Surrendering life reveals our deathless Atma  |
| 11      | Oneness       | The individual merges into the Universal      |

The ‘cha me’ refrain affirms, “I accept that I am complete, that divine fullness is my true nature.”

Appendix D: Meditative Reflections

---

Meditative Reflections on the Namakam

Anuvaka 1: Propitiation — When confronted with anger or negativity today, can I choose to lower my own defenses and respond with a peaceful, forgiving heart?

Anuvaka 2: Pervasiveness — Can I slow down and consciously recognize the living presence of the Divine in the quiet beauty of the trees, plants, and natural world around me today?

Anuvaka 3: Non-Judgment — Am I willing to look past my moralistic judgments today and realize that the same Divine Light animates even those who seem lost on the fringes of society?

Anuvaka 4: Labor — Can I honor the sacredness of honest effort by treating every worker, no matter how humble their task, with equal respect and dignity today?

Anuvaka 5: Flow — Am I able to surrender my need for control today and trust the natural flow of life's currents, recognizing them as parts of a divine cosmic play?

Anuvaka 6: Time — How can I honor the precious gift of time today by aligning my transient daily moments with the eternal truth of my soul?

Anuvaka 7: Storms — When life's unexpected storms and difficulties rage around me, can I see them as a purifying force preparing my inner soil for new growth?

Anuvaka 8: Absolution — Am I willing to let go of my past mistakes today and submerge my mind in the ever-present grace that washes away all self-imposed guilt?

Anuvaka 9: Strength — Can I trust that a higher, benevolent strength is guiding and protecting me through the unseen, turbulent forces of the world today?

Anuvaka 10: Benevolence — Am I ready to approach the Divine not with fear or anxiety, but with the sweet, innocent trust of a child seeking a loving parent's embrace?

Anuvaka 11: Surrender — Can I offer my unconditional gratitude to life today, completely letting go of all lingering resentment or division in my heart?

Meditative Reflections on the Chamakam

Anuvaka 1: Vitality — Do I treat my physical body, my breath, and my senses today as sacred instruments loaned by the Divine, rather than possessions of my ego?

Anuvaka 2: Sovereignty — Instead of seeking validation, dominance, or recognition from others today, can I stand firmly established in the quiet majesty of my own Atma?

Anuvaka 3: Alignment — Am I actively cultivating thoughts of peace and love today to cool the agitations and anxieties of my restless mind?

Anuvaka 4: Nourishment — Can I elevate the simple act of eating today by receiving my food as a sacred, grateful offering to the divine fire of life within?

Anuvaka 5: Matter — Do I look upon the earth, its stones, and its material wonders as the living, conscious garment of God rather than resources to be mindlessly consumed?

Anuvaka 6: Cosmos — Can I recognize that the cosmic forces of the universe are dancing in perfect, harmonious alignment within my own heart today?

Anuvaka 7: Purification — Am I keeping my words, thoughts, and actions pure enough today to allow the subtle nectar of divine joy to flow freely through me?

Anuvaka 8: Consecration — Can I transform my ordinary daily tasks today into acts of sacred worship, making my very life an ongoing offering?

Anuvaka 9: Integration — Am I successfully integrating my daily work, my devotion, and my pursuit of truth into one single, harmonious spiritual path?

Anuvaka 10: Transcendence — Can I surrender my fear of aging and physical decay today by resting in the awareness of my birthless, deathless spiritual nature?

Anuvaka 11: Oneness — When I look at the vast diversity of the world today, can I see the beautiful mathematical harmony of the One reflecting through the many?

Appendix E: Sri Sathya Sai Baba Quotes

---

The following teachings of Bhagavan Sri Sathya Sai Baba are drawn from His discourses and writings, organized thematically for contemplation.

I. The Dual Nature of the Divine

Ghora and Aghora — The Terrible and the Serene

Yaatho Rudrassivaathanoraghora Paapa naasinee, it is said. That is to say, God is described as having two distinguishable forms — the serene and the terrible.

— Leela Vahini, p. 31

The Narasimha form of God that emerged from the Pillar was mild and serene, beautiful and beneficent for Prahlada, the staunch devotee, and at the same time, the form was terrible for Hiranyakasipu, the father, who hated God to the utmost.

— Leela Vahini, p. 31

Just as pain and pleasure are not two separate things, so also, Ghora and Aghora are not two separate entities.

— Summer Course, 1974

That the same was seen by one as Shiva and another as Rudra has to be interpreted by saying that these two aspects are not intrinsic to God but arise from the different attitudes which the devotees themselves possess.

— Summer Course, 1974

II. The Vedas: Structure and Essence

In fact, it (Rudram) is the essence of all the Vedas, namely, Rig, Yajur, Sama, and Atharvana Vedas. The Namaka emphasises the aspect of detachment whereas Chamaka stresses the aspect of desire. But the essence of both aspects is one.

— Sathya Sai Speaks, Vol. 39, 9 August 2006

The eras, classified according to the principles and practices of spiritual progress as laid down in the Hindu dharma, are three: 1. The Vedic era, during which great importance was laid on rituals (karma). 2. The Upanishadic era, when spiritual wisdom (jnana) was emphasized more than all else. 3. The Puranic era, when devotion (bhakthi) was declared and described as all important.

— Dharma Vahini, Ch 11

“Love Him, adore Him, worship Him”, say the Vedas. This is the grand philosophy of love as elaborated in the Vedas.

— Sai Sathya Sai Vahini, Ch 1

III. The Power of Mantra and Sacrifice

The syllable “man” indicates the process of probing, and the syllable “thra” means “the capacity to take across, to liberate, to save.” In short, mantra is that which saves when the mind dwells upon it.

— Leela Kaivalya Vahini

People can reap the full reward only when they recite the mantras with knowledge of the meaning and significance.

— Leela Kaivalya Vahini

Today the foremost need is to develop the spirit of sacrifice. You are not expected to give away all your wealth and possessions. What is required is a sense of compassion at the sight of a suffering being. When the heart melts, that itself becomes sacrifice.

— Sathya Sai Speaks, Vol. 22, Ch. 29

IV. The Discipline of the Spiritual Seeker

Truth has to be sought and tested by all the canons of reasoning. The discipline consists of: Ojascha, the heroism to observe Dharma rigorously; Thejascha, fearless self-control; Sahascha, the discarding of all feelings of joy or sorrow... The prayer man has to make is "May all this be conferred on me" as found in the Chamaka.

— Dharma Vahini, Ch. 13

Faith in self and Faith in God is the secret of greatness. One who has no faith in himself cannot develop faith in God.

— Sathya Sai Speaks, Vol. 19, May 1986

Yadbhaavam, thadbhavathi. As you feel, so you become. It is how you feel that matters most. That is the basis for all that you are.

— Vidya Vahini, Ch. 14

V. The Mission of Vedic Revival

My mission, remember, is just fourfold: the fostering the Vedas and Vedic scholars and protection of virtue and devotees.

— Sathya Sai Speaks, Vol. 2, 23 November 1962

It is Swami's wish that the Vedas be spread to every country, so that every human being, irrespective of religion, caste, nationality, etc., learns Vedas and chants them.

— Sathya Sai Speaks, Vol. 39, 9 August 2006

The Athi Rudra Maha Yajna protects and fosters the divine nature in the human beings, while rejecting and diminishing the demonic qualities. Thus, it works for the welfare of humanity.

— Sathya Sai Speaks, Vol. 39, 9 August 2006

VI. Living the Veda

You should consider your body as the tantra, your own breath as the mantra and your very own heart as the yantra. There is no need to seek these outside yourself. When all words emanating from you are sweet, your breath truly is the Rig Veda. When you practice restraint and listen to and prefer only sweet and noble speech, all that you hear becomes Sama Veda! When you do only noble, helpful and uplifting actions, all that you do becomes Yajur homa. Then, you will be performing every day the Vedapurusha Yajna, the fire sacrifice which propitiates the Vedic Spirit.

— Divine Discourse, Oct 02, 1981

Every human being must revere the Vedas. It is the very foundation of life. Every act of daily life has its roots in the Vedas. Whether everyone knows this or not, the Vedas pervade, everything.

— Sri Sathya Sai Speaks, Vol 20, 28 September 1987

“Mohakshayam = Moksham” — the elimination of moha (delusion) is Moksha.

— Sathya Sai Speaks, Vol. 19, May 1986

Appendix F: Sri Rudram Glossary

Reference of terms, short English translations, and Anuvaka locations (Alphabetical Order). N = Namakam, C = Chamakam.

| Sanskrit Word            | Short English Translation         | Anuvaka(s)                 |
|--------------------------|-----------------------------------|----------------------------|
| Agni / Agnishcha         | Fire (god); energy                | N overview; C1, C6, C7, C9 |
| Aayus / Aayushcha        | Longevity / life-span             | C1, C10                    |
| Aatma / Aatmaa           | Self / soul                       | C1, C10                    |
| Abhayam                  | Fearlessness                      | C3                         |
| Adhipatya / Aadhipathyam | Overlordship / sovereignty        | C2                         |
| Annam                    | Food / grain                      | C4                         |
| Apana / Apaashcha        | Downward vital air                | C1, C10                    |
| Baahu / Baahubhyaam      | Arms / hands                      | N1                         |
| Bhagavan / Bhagavate     | Blessed Lord                      | N1, N10, N11               |
| Bhavah / Bhavaaya        | Existence / birth (Rudra epithet) | N5                         |
| Dhanuh / Dhanvane        | Bow                               | N1, N3, N10, N11           |
| Ishu / Ishave            | Arrow                             | N1, N3                     |
|                          |                                   |                            |

| Sanskrit Word                | Short English Translation             | Anuvaka(s)        |
|------------------------------|---------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Jyeshtha / Jyeshhtaaya       | Eldest / senior                       | N6                |
| Kapardin / Kapardino         | Wearer of matted hair                 | N1, N5, N9, N10   |
| Manyu / Manyava              | Wrath / anger                         | N1, C2            |
| Namah / namo                 | Salutation / homage / bow to          | Throughout N      |
| Neelagreeva / Neela-kantaaya | Blue-throated                         | N1, N5, N11       |
| Pashu / Pashupataye          | Cattle / animals; Lord of beasts      | N2, N5, N8, N10   |
| Praana / Praanashcha         | Vital breath / life-force             | C1, C10           |
| Rudra / Rudraaya             | Rudra (the howler / fierce one)       | Throughout N; N11 |
| Sahasra / Sahasraakshaaya    | Thousand / thousand-eyed              | N1, N10, N11      |
| Shambhu / Shambhave          | Beneficent / cause of happiness       | N8                |
| Shiva / Shivaaya             | Auspicious / benevolent               | N1, N8, N10       |
| Soma / Somaaya               | Soma (moon / plant / deity)           | N8, C6            |
| Tryambaka / Tryambakaaya     | Three-eyed                            | N1, N11           |
| Vaak / Vaakcha               | Speech                                | C1, C10           |
| Vishva / Vishveshvaraaya     | All / universe / Lord of the universe | N1, N10, N11      |
|                              |                                       |                   |

| Sanskrit Word   | Short English Translation | Anuvaka(s)  |
|-----------------|---------------------------|-------------|
| Yajna / Yagyena | Sacrifice / ritual        | C5, C9, C10 |

Note: This is a condensed selection of key terms. The full glossary in the original document contains many more entries.

← Back to Contents

Illustrations from the book

---

Pencil-style plates from the original volume.

Complete Glossary (every Sacred Text word)

---

In the PDF, underlined words in the Sacred Text link here. Use your reader's Back button to return.

abhaya (अभय) — Fearlessness.

---

abhitah (अभितः) — On all sides / around.

---

abhivyādhine (अभिव्याधिने) — To the one who pierces toward / strikes.

---

adhipati (अधिपति) — Overlord.

---

adhipatiḥ (अधिपतिः) — Overlord / sovereign.

---

adhivaktā (अधिवक्ता) — Advocate / intercessor.

---

adhyavocad (अध्यवोचद्) — Spoke on behalf of / interceded.

---

aditi (अदिति) — The unbounded.

---

adābhya (अदाभ्य) — Invincible.

---

adrśan (अदृशन्) — Saw / beheld.

---

aghorapāpakāśinī (अघोरपापकाशिनी) — Benign form that reveals / destroys sin.

---

agni (अग्नि) — Fire / the deity Agni.

---

agnīśca (अग्निश्च) — And Agni.

---

agrevadhāya (अग्रेवधाय) — To the one who strikes in front.

---

agriyāya (अग्रियाय) — To the foremost / first.

---

ahantya (अहन्त्य) — Indestructible / unslayable.

---

ahantyāya (अहन्त्याय) — To the indestructible.

---

ahiṃs (अहिंस्) — Non-harming / may not injure.

---

ailabṛdā (ऐलबृदा) — A class of beings / attendants.

---

ajirāya (अजिराय) — To the agile one.

---

akṛṣṭapacya (अकृष्टपच्य) — Uncultivated crop.

---

akṣiti (अक्षिति) — Imperishability.

---

akṣu (अक्षु) — Appetite / hunger-satisfaction.

---

amṛta (अमृत) — Immortality / nectar.

---

anamitra (अनमित्र) — Freedom from enemies.

---

anaḍvān (अनड्वान्) — Ox.

---

andhasaspate (अन्धसस्पते) — O lord of food / herb.

---

aneśan (अनेशन) — Have become powerless / have not reached.

---

aneśan (अनेशन) — Have become powerless.

---

anna (अन्न) — Food / grain.

---

anneṣu (अन्नेषु) — In foods / among grains.

---

annānām (अन्नानाम्) — Of foods.

---

antarikṣa (अन्तरिक्ष) — Mid-region.

---

antarikṣe (अन्तरिक्षे) — In the atmosphere / mid-space.

---

antaryāma (अन्तर्यामि) — Inner controller (graha).

---

anukāma (अनुकाम) — According to wish.

---

anāmaya (अनामय) — Freedom from illness.

---

anātatāya (अनातताय) — To the unstrung (bow).

---

apāna (अपान) — Downward vital air.

---

araṇyānām (अरण्यानाम्) — Of forests.

---

arbhakam (अर्भकम्) — The small one / child.

---

arka (अर्क) — Hymn / sun.

---

artha (अर्थ) — Purpose / wealth.

---

aruṇa (अरुण) — Rosy-red / dawn-coloured.

---

arṇave (अर्णवे) — In the ocean / flood.

---

asau (असौ) — That one (yonder).

---

asmin — Vedic form related to “asmin”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

asmin (अस्मिन्) — In this.

---

asmān (अस्मान्) — Us.

---

asmān (अस्मान्) — Us.

---

asthāni (अस्थानि) — Bones.

---

astu (अस्तु) — May it be / let there be.

---

astv (अस्त्व) — May it be (astu).

---

asu (असु) — Life-breath / vital force.

---

asya (अस्य) — Of this / his.

---

asyeṣavaḥ (अस्येषवः) — His arrows / the arrows of this one.

---

atho (अथो) — Then / moreover.

---

atigrāhya (अतिग्राह्य) — Additional Soma cup.

---

audbhidya (औद्भिद्य) — Sprouting / vegetation.

---

avabhṛtha (अवभृथ) — Concluding ritual bath.

---

avanyāya (अवन्याय) — To the one of the course / stream.

---

avasarpati (अवसर्पति) — Creeps down / descends.

---

avatatya (अवतत्य) — Having unstrung.

---

avyādhīnām (अव्याधीनाम्) — Of those who strike.

---

ayakṣma (अयक्ष्म) — Free from disease.

---

ayakṣmayā (अयक्ष्मया) — With freedom from disease.

---

ayas (अयस्) — Metal / iron.

---

aśman (अश्मन्) — Stone.

---

aśva (अश्व) — Horse.

---

aśvamedha (अश्वमेध) — Horse sacrifice.

---

aśveṣu (अश्वेषु) — Among horses.

---

aśvin (अश्विन्) — The twin physicians.

---

aśvinau (अश्विनौ) — The twin Aśvins.

---

aṃśu (अंशु) — Ray / soma stalk.

---

aṅgulayo (अङ्गुलयो) — Fingers.

---

aṅgāni (अङ्गानि) — Limbs.

---

aṇu (अणु) — Small grain.

---

aṣṭau (अष्टौ) — Eight.

---

aṣṭācatvāriṃśat (अष्टाचत्वारिंशत्) — Forty-eight.

---

aṣṭāviṃśati (अष्टाविंशति) — Twenty-eight.

---

babhru (बभ्रु) — Reddish-brown / tawny.

---

babhruḥ (बभ्रुः) — The reddish-brown one.

---

bahu (बहु) — Much / many.

---

bala (बल) — Strength / force.

---

barhis (बर्हिस) — Sacrificial grass.

---

bhadra (भद्र) — Auspicious / good.

---

bhaga (भग) — Fortune / share.

---

bhagavan (भगवन्) — O Blessed Lord.

---

bhagavate (भगवते) — To the Blessed Lord.

---

bhagavo (भगवो) — O Blessed One.

---

bhauvanaḥ (भौवनः) — Belonging to the world / Bhuvana.

---

bhava (भव) — Existence; epithet of Rudra.

---

bhaviṣyat (भविष्यत्) — What will be.

---

bhavāya (भवाय) — To Bhava.

---

bheḥ (भेः) — Fear / of fear (fragment).

---

bheṣajī (भेषजी) — Healing / medicinal.

---

bhiṣak (भिषक्) — Physician.

---

bhiṣak (भिषक्) — Physician / healer.

---

bhuvana (भुवन) — World.

---

bhuvantaye (भुवन्तये) — To the one who causes being.

---

bhāma (भाम) — Wrath / radiance.

---

bhīma (भीम) — Terrible / formidable.

---

bhīmāya (भीमाय) — To the formidable one.

---

bhūmyām (भूम्याम्) — On the earth.

---

bhūta (भूत) — What has been / being.

---

bhūti (भूति) — Prosperity / being.

---

bhūtāni (भूतानि) — Beings / creatures.

---

bhūyas (भूयस्) — More.

---

bibharṣyastave (बिभर्ष्यस्तवे) — You bear for praise / you hold (the weapon) for worship.

---

bilmine (बिल्मिने) — To the one wearing a helmet.

---

budhniyāya (बुध्नियाय) — To the one at the base / bottom.

---

bāhubhyām (बाहुभ्याम्) — To the two arms.

---

bāṇavāḥ (बाणवाः) — Quivers.

---

br̥haspati (बृहस्पति) — Lord of prayer.

---

ca (च) — And / also.

---

ca / cha (च) — And / also.

---

cakṣus (चक्षुस्) — Eye / sight.

---

camasa (चमस) — Soma cup.

---

caradbhyaḥ (चरद्भ्यः) — To those who move about / wander.

---

catasraś — Vedic form related to “catasraś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

caturviṃśatiś — Vedic form related to “caturviṃśatiś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

catuścatvāriṃśac — Vedic form related to “catuścatvāriṃśac”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

catuṣpade (चतुष्पदे) — For the four-footed.

---

catvāriṃśat (चत्वारिंशत्) — Forty.

---

cemāḥ (चेमाः) — And these.

---

ceṣudhimate — Vedic form related to “ceṣudhimate”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

ceṣumate (चेषुमते) — And to the one possessing arrows.

---

citta (चित्त) — Mind / thought.

---

colapyāya (चोलप्याय) — And to the one of the high ground.

---

cottaraṇāya (चोत्तराणाय) — And to the one of the crossing over.

---

cābhighnate (चाभिघ्नते) — And to the one who strikes at.

---

cāhananyāya (चाहनन्याय) — And to the one of the striking place.

---

cājirāya (चाजिराय) — And to the quick / agile one.

---

cālādyāya (चालाद्याय) — And to the one of the marsh / lagoon.

---

cāpagalbhāya (चापगल्भाय) — And to the bold / proud one.

---

cāparājāya (चापराजय) — And to the one of later birth / younger.

---

cātapyāya (चातप्याय) — And to the one of the heat / sunshine.

---

cāvabhindate (चावभिन्दते) — And to the one who splits / breaks apart.

---

cāvarṣyāya (चावर्ष्याय) — And to the one of the rain.

---

cāvasānyāya (चावसान्याय) — And to the one of the resting place / settlement.

---

cāvaṭyāya (चावट्याय) — And to the one of the hollow / pit.

---

cāvāryāya (चावार्याय) — And to the one of the near bank.

---

cāyudhine (चायुधिने) — And to the armed one.

---

cāśurathāya (चाशुरथाय) — And to the one with a swift chariot.

---

dadhāmi (दधामि) — I place / I establish.

---

daivyo (दैव्यो) — Divine.

---

dakṣa (दक्ष) — Skill / capability.

---

daridran (दरिद्रन्) — O poor one / wanderer (epithet of Rudra).

---

daśodīcīḥ (दशोदीचीः) — Ten upward / northern.

---

daśordhvāḥ (दशोर्ध्वाः) — Ten upward.

---

devāḥ (देवाः) — Gods.

---

dhana (धन) — Wealth.

---

dhanus (धनुस्) — Bow.

---

dhanuḥ (धनुः) — Bow.

---

dhanvan (धन्वन्) — Bow.

---

dhanvane (धन्वने) — To the bow.

---

dhanvāribhyaḥ (धन्वारिभ्यः) — To those with bows.

---

dhartā (धर्ता) — Supporter.

---

dhenu (धेनु) — Milch cow.

---

dhipatiḥ (धिपतिः) — Lord / overlord (adhipatiḥ).

---

dhiṣṇiya (धिष्णिय) — Side altar.

---

dhruvaḥ (ध्रुवः) — Fixed / the pole / a Soma graha.

---

dhātṛ (धातृ) — The establiher.

---

dhāvadbhyaś — Vedic form related to “dhāvadbhyaś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

dhāvate (धावते) — Runs / rushes.

---

dhīti (धीति) — Thought / meditation.

---

dhṛti (धृति) — Steadiness / courage.

---

dhṛṣṇave (धृष्णवे) — To the bold / fierce.

---

digbhyaḥ (दिग्भ्यः) — To the directions.

---

digbhyo (दिग्भ्यो) — To the directions.

---

dikṣu (दिक्षु) — In the directions.

---

diti (दिति) — Mother of Daityas.

---

dityauhī (दित्यौही) — A two-year-old cow.

---

divam (दिवम्) — Heaven / sky.

---

divi (दिवि) — In heaven.

---

diśaḥ (दिशः) — Directions.

---

draviṇa (द्रविण) — Movable wealth.

---

dronakalaśaḥ (द्रोणकलशः) — The large Soma trough.

---

drāghuyā (द्राघुया) — Length.

---

drāpe (द्रापे) — O you who cause to run / flee.

---

dundubhyāya (दुन्दुभ्याय) — To the drum-like / drum-sounding one.

---

dveṣṭi (द्वेष्टि) — Hates / is hostile.

---

dvipade — Vedic form related to “dvipade”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

dviṣmo (द्विष्मो) — We hate / are hostile to.

---

dvādaśa (द्वादश) — Twelve.

---

dvātriṃśat (द्वात्रिंशत्) — Thirty-two.

---

dvīpyāya (द्वीप्याय) — To the island-dweller.

---

dyaus (द्यौस्) — Heaven.

---

dyumnaiḥ (द्युम्नैः) — With splendours / glories.

---

dābhyaḥ (दाभ्यः) — Vulnerable / to be harmed (or adābhya = invincible).

---

dīkṣā (दीक्षा) — Consecration.

---

dīrghāyutva (दीर्घायुत्व) — Long life.

---

dūrevadhāya (दूरेवधाय) — To the one who strikes from afar.

---

dr̥ṣṭaḥ (दृष्टः) — Seen / when seen.

---

eka (एक) — One.

---

ekatriṃśac — Vedic form related to “ekatriṃśat”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

ekaviṃśatiś — Vedic form related to “ekaviṃśatiś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

ekādaśa (एकादश) — Eleven.

---

ema (एम) — Course / path.

---

gahvareṣṭhāya (गह्वरेष्ठाया) — To the one dwelling in caves.

---

garbha (गर्भ) — Embryo / womb.

---

gati (गति) — Movement / goal.

---

gaṇapatibhyaḥ (गणपतिभ्यः) — To the lords of hosts (Gaṇapatis).

---

gaṇebhyaḥ (गणेभ्यः) — To the hosts / troops.

---

gehyāya (गेह्याय) — To the one of the dwelling.

---

gharma (घर्म) — Hot milk offering.

---

ghṛta (घृत) — Ghee / clarified butter.

---

giri (गिरि) — Mountain.

---

giriśa (गिरिश) — Mountain-dweller.

---

giriśāya (गिरिशाय) — To the mountain-dweller.

---

girāya (गिराय) — To the mountain(-dweller).

---

go (गो) — Cow / cattle.

---

godhūma (गोधूम) — Wheat.

---

gopāḥ (गोपाः) — Cowherds / protectors.

---

goṣu — Vedic form related to “goṣu”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

goṣu (गोषु) — Among cattle.

---

goṣṭhyāya (गोष्ठ्याय) — To the one of the cow-pen.

---

grāmya (ग्राम्य) — Domestic (animals).

---

grāvan (ग्रावन्) — Pressing stone.

---

gr̥hyāya (गृह्याय) — To the one of the house.

---

gr̥hāś — Vedic form related to “gr̥hāś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

gr̥tsapatibhyaḥ (गृत्सपतिभ्यः) — To the lords of the clever.

---

gr̥tsebhyaḥ (गृत्सेभ्यः) — To the clever / skilled ones.

---

ham (हम्) — I (aham fragment) / particle.

---

hantre (हन्त्रे) — To the slayer / striker.

---

hanīyase (हनीयसे) — To the more deadly / more striking.

---

harikeśa (हरिकेश) — Tawny/green-haired (of herbs/trees).

---

harikeśebhyaḥ (हरिकेशेभ्यः) — To those with tawny hair.

---

hasta (हस्त) — Hand.

---

haste (हस्ते) — In the hand.

---

haviṣmanto (हविष्मन्तो) — Possessing offerings.

---

heti (हेति) — Weapon / missile.

---

hetiḥ (हेतिः) — Missile / weapon.

---

hetyai (हेत्यै) — To the weapon / missile.

---

heḍa (हेड) — Anger / displeasure.

---

hi (हि) — Indeed / for.

---

hiraṇya (हिरण्य) — Gold.

---

hiraṇyabāhave (हिरण्यबाहवे) — To the golden-armed.

---

hiṃsīḥ (हिंसीः) — Do not harm / injure.

---

horātrayoḥ (होरात्रयोः) — Of day and night.

---

hradayyāya (हृदय्याय) — To the one of the heart / lake.

---

hṛdayebhyaḥ (हृदयेभ्यः) — To those in the heart.

---

idhma (इध्म) — Fuel wood.

---

ijjagad (इज्जगद्) — This world (idam jagat).

---

indra (इन्द्र) — Indra (strength / lord of gods).

---

indraśca (इन्द्रश्च) — And Indra.

---

irimyāya (इरिम्याय) — To the one of the desert / waste.

---

irinyāya (इरिण्याय) — To the one of the desert / salt land.

---

iti (इति) — Thus / way.

---

iṣave (इषवे) — To the arrow.

---

iṣu (इषु) — Arrow.

---

iṣudhiḥ (इषुधिः) — Quiver.

---

iṣumadbhyaḥ (इषुमद्भ्यः) — To those with arrows.

---

iṣumate (इषुमते) — Possessing arrows.

---

jagat (जगत्) — World / moving universe.

---

jagatām (जगताम्) — Of the worlds.

---

jaghanyāya (जघन्याय) — To the hindmost / lowest.

---

jaitra (जैत्र) — Victory / victorious.

---

jaiṣṭhya (जैष्ठ्य) — Seniority / pre-eminence.

---

jambhayan (जम्भयन्) — Crushing / destroying.

---

janiṣyamāṇa (जनिष्यमाण) — About to be born.

---

janān (जनान्) — People / beings.

---

jarā (जरा) — Old age.

---

jemā (जेमा) — Victory.

---

jighāṃsadbhyaḥ (जिघांसद्भ्यः) — To those who wish to strike / kill.

---

jyeṣṭhāya (ज्येष्ठाय) — To the eldest / most excellent.

---

jyotis (ज्योतिस्) — Light.

---

gyām (ज्याम्) — Bow-string.

---

jñātra (ज्ञात्र) — Capacity to know.

---

jāgradbhyaḥ (जाग्रद्भ्यः) — To those who are awake.

---

jāta (जात) — Born / arisen.

---

jīvātu (जीवातु) — Means of living.

---

kakubha (ककुभ) — Peak / direction.

---

kakubhāya (ककुभाय) — To the eminent / peak-like.

---

kakṣyāya — Vedic form related to “kakṣyāya”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

kakṣāṇām (कक्षाणाम्) — Of the thickets / hidden places.

---

kalpantām (कल्पन्ताम्) — May they be prepared / granted.

---

kalpatām (कल्पताम्) — May it be prepared / may it be granted (optative).

---

kalpetām — Vedic form related to “kalpetām”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

kaniṣṭhāya (कनिष्ठाय) — To the youngest / least.

---

kapardin (कपर्दिन्) — Wearer of matted locks.

---

kapardine (कपर्दिने) — To the wearer of matted locks.

---

karan (करन्) — Doing / making.

---

karma (कर्म) — Action / work.

---

kavacine (कवचिने) — To the one wearing armour.

---

khalva (खल्व) — A kind of pulse.

---

khalyāya (खल्याय) — To the one of the threshing floor.

---

kirikebhyaḥ (किरिकेभ्यः) — To the sparkling / radiant ones.

---

kiñcanāmamat (किञ्चनाममत्) — Anything of mine.

---

kiśilāya (किशिलाय) — To the one of the pebbles / gravel.

---

krandāya (क्रन्दाय) — To the roaring one.

---

kratu (क्रतु) — Will / ritual resolve.

---

krīḍā (क्रीडा) — Play / sport.

---

kuluñcānām (कुलुञ्चानाम्) — Of those who pluck / seize.

---

kulālebhyaḥ (कुलालेभ्यः) — To the potters.

---

kuru (कुरु) — Do / make (imperative).

---

kākyāya (काक्याय) — To the one of the crevice / hollow.

---

kālāgnirudrāya (कालाग्निरुद्राय) — To Rudra as the Fire of Time.

---

kāma (काम) — Desire / wish.

---

kātyāya (कात्याय) — To the one who dwells in forests / thickets (or related epithet).

---

kūlyāya (कूल्याय) — To the one of the bank / canal.

---

kūpyāya (कूप्याय) — To the one of the well.

---

kūyava (कूयव) — Inferior grain.

---

kṛpta (कृप्त) — Arranged / prepared.

---

kṛpti (कृप्ति) — Arrangement.

---

kṛtsna (कृत्स्न) — Whole / entire.

---

kṛtsnavītāya (कृत्स्नवीताय) — To the all-encompassing one.

---

kṛṣi (कृषि) — Agriculture.

---

kṛṣṭapacya (कृष्टपच्य) — Cultivated crop.

---

kṣattṛbhyaḥ — Vedic form related to “kṣattṛbhyaḥ”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

kṣayadvīrāya (क्षयद्वीराय) — To the ruler / destroyer of heroes.

---

kṣema (क्षेम) — Security / well-being.

---

kṣemyāya (क्षेम्याय) — To the one of security / welfare.

---

kṣitiḥ (क्षितिः) — Earth / dwelling / destruction.

---

kṣuc — Vedic form related to “kṣuc”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

kṣullakebhyaḥ (क्षुल्लकेभ्यः) — To the small / inferior ones.

---

laya (लय) — Dissolution / rest.

---

loha (लोह) — Copper / metal.

---

lopyāya (लोप्याय) — To the one of the disappearing place.

---

madhu (मधु) — Honey / sweetness.

---

maha (मह) — Greatness.

---

mahimā (महिमा) — Greatness.

---

mahādeva (महादेव) — Great God.

---

mahādevāya (महादेवाय) — To the Great God.

---

manas (मनस्) — Mind.

---

manaśca (मनश्च) — And mind.

---

manthī — Vedic form related to “manthī”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

mantriṇe (मन्त्रिणे) — To the counsellor / minister.

---

manur (मनुर) — Manu (the human / thinker).

---

manyave (मन्यवे) — To (Your) wrath / purifying anger.

---

manyu (मन्यु) — Wrath / righteous anger.

---

marut (मरुत्) — Storm gods.

---

masura (मसुर) — Lentil.

---

mati (मति) — Thought / intention.

---

maya (मय) — Delight / pleasure.

---

mayobhave (मयोभवे) — To the source of delight / comfort.

---

mbhaḥ (म्भः) — Water (ambhaḥ fragment).

---

me (मे) — My / to me / for me.

---

meghyāya (मेघ्याय) — To the one of the cloud.

---

mitra (मित्र) — Mitra (friendship).

---

moda (मोद) — Joy.

---

mota (मोत) — And also (mā uta fragment).

---

mudga (मुद्ग) — Mung bean.

---

mukhā (मुखा) — Tips / faces (of arrows).

---

muṣṇatām (मुष्णताम्) — Of those who steal / rob.

---

mā (मा) — Do not (prohibitive).

---

māhendraḥ (माहेन्द्रः) — Belonging to great Indra.

---

mātaram (मातरम्) — Mother.

---

māṣa (माष) — Bean.

---

mīḍhuṣ (मीढुष) — Bountiful / liberal giver.

---

mīḍhuṣe (मीढुषे) — To the bountiful.

---

mīḍhuṣṭama (मीढुष्टम) — Most bountiful.

---

mīḍhuṣṭamāya (मीढुष्टमाय) — To the most bountiful.

---

mūrdhā (मूर्धा) — Head / summit.

---

mṛgayubhyaḥ (मृगयुभ्यः) — To the hunters.

---

mṛttikā (मृत्तिका) — Clay / earth.

---

mṛtyuñjaya (मृत्युञ्जय) — Conqueror of death.

---

mṛtyuñjayāya (मृत्युञ्जयाय) — To the Conqueror of Death.

---

mṛḍaya (मृडय) — Make us happy / be gracious.

---

mṛḍayāti (मृडयाति) — Makes happy / is gracious to.

---

naktaṃ — Vedic form related to “naktaṃ”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

naktaṃcarabhyaḥ (नक्तंचरभ्यः) — To those who move at night.

---

nama (नम) — Homage (stem).

---

namaste (नमस्ते) — Salutations to you.

---

namaḥ (नमः) — Salutation.

---

namaḥ (नमः) — Salutation.

---

namo (नमो) — Salutation / homage.

---

nava (नव) — Nine.

---

naḥ (नः) — Us / our.

---

naḥ / no (नः) — Us / our / to us.

---

nicerave (निचेरवे) — To the one who moves about / prowls.

---

nidhehi (निधेहि) — Place / deposit.

---

niveṣpyāya (निवेश्याय) — To the one of the settlement.

---

nivyādhin (निव्याधिन्) — Piercing thoroughly.

---

nivyādhina — Vedic form related to “nivyādhina”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

niśīrya (निशीर्य) — Having broken / blunted.

---

niṣaṅgathiḥ (निषङ्गथिः) — Sword / side-weapon.

---

niṣaṅgiṇe (निषङ्गिणे) — To the one with sword/quiver.

---

niṣādinām (निषादिनाम्) — Of hunters.

---

ntarikṣaṇ — Vedic form related to “ntarikṣaṇ”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

ntarikṣe (न्तरिक्षे) — In the mid-region / atmosphere (antarikṣe).

---

ntaryāmaś — Vedic form related to “ntaryāmaś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

ntyah (न्त्यः) — Last / final (antya fragment).

---

ntyāyanaḥ (न्त्यायनः) — Going to the end (antyāyana).

---

nādyāya (नाद्याय) — To the one of the river.

---

nāpyāya (नाप्याय) — To the one of the waters / flood.

---

nīlagrīva (नीलग्रीव) — Blue-necked.

---

nīlagrīvāya (नीलग्रीवाय) — To the blue-necked.

---

nīlakaṇṭha (नीलकण्ठ) — Blue-throated.

---

nīlakaṇṭhāya (नीलकण्ठाय) — To the Blue-throated One.

---

nīpyāya (नीप्याय) — To the one of the low ground / water-pool.

---

nīvāra (नीवार) — Wild rice.

---

ojas (ओजस्) — Vitality / prowess.

---

om (ॐ) — The sacred primordial syllable.

---

oṣadhi (ओषधि) — Herb / medicinal plant.

---

oṣadhīnām (ओषधीनाम्) — Of herbs.

---

pacatāḥ (पचताः) — Cooked offerings.

---

paguramāṇāya (पगुरमाणाय) — To the one who threatens / raises a weapon.

---

pari (परि) — Around / completely.

---

paribbhuja (परिबभुज) — Protect all around.

---

parivancate (परिवञ्चते) — Cheats thoroughly.

---

parvata (पर्वत) — Mountain / hill.

---

parā tā (परा ता) — Those far away.

---

parūṃṣi (परूंषि) — Joints.

---

parṇaśadyāya (पर्णशद्याय) — To the one of fallen leaves.

---

parṇyāya (पर्ण्याय) — To the one of the leaves.

---

pataye (पतये) — To the lord / master of.

---

pataye (पतये) — To the lord of.

---

pathirakṣaya — Vedic form related to “pathirakṣaya”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

pathyāya — Vedic form related to “pathyāya”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

pathām — Vedic form related to “pathām”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

pathīnām (पथिनाम्) — Of the paths / travellers.

---

pattīnām (पत्तिनाम्) — Of foot-soldiers.

---

pauṣṇaḥ (पौष्णः) — Belonging to Pūṣan.

---

payas (पयस्) — Milk / fluid.

---

pañca (पञ्च) — Five.

---

paśu (पशु) — Cattle / creature.

---

paśupataye (पशुपतये) — To the Lord of creatures.

---

paśupati (पशुपति) — Lord of creatures / cattle.

---

paśūnām (पशूनाम्) — Of creatures.

---

paśūnām (पशूनाम्) — Of the cattle / creatures.

---

paṣṭhavāt — Vedic form related to “paṣṭhavāt”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

phenyāya (फेन्याय) — To the one of foam.

---

pibato (पिबतो) — Of the two drinking.

---

pijah (पिजः) — Impelling / driving force.

---

pitaram — Vedic form related to “pitaram”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

pitā (पिता) — Father.

---

piśaṅgaḥ (पिशङ्गः) — Tawny / reddish.

---

prabhu (प्रभु) — Lord / powerful.

---

pracaranti (प्रचरन्ति) — They move about / roam.

---

prajāpati (प्रजापति) — Lord of creatures.

---

prakkhidate — Vedic form related to “prakkhidate”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

prakṛntānām (प्रकृन्तानाम्) — Of those who cut / destroy.

---

pramuñca (प्रमुञ्च) — Loosen / release.

---

prapathyāya (प्रपथ्याय) — To the one of the broad path.

---

prasava (प्रसव) — Impulse / generation / birth.

---

prasiti (प्रसिति) — Domain / reach.

---

prasū (प्रसू) — Bringing forth.

---

prathamō (प्रथमो) — First / foremost.

---

prathimā (प्रथिमा) — Breadth.

---

pratihaste (प्रतिहस्ते) — In the opposite hand.

---

pratisaryāya (प्रतिसर्याय) — To the one who moves against / counter.

---

pratiṅīr — Vedic form related to “pratiṅīr”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

pravāhyāya (प्रवाह्याय) — To the one of the flowing stream.

---

prayati (प्रयति) — Offering / intention.

---

priya (प्रिय) — Dear / pleasant.

---

priyaṅgu (प्रियङ्गु) — A millet.

---

prācīḥ (प्राचीः) — Eastern (directions).

---

prāṇa (प्राण) — Vital breath / life-force.

---

prāṇaśca (प्राणश्च) — And vital breath.

---

pulastaye (पुलस्तये) — To the one with standing hair / rough-haired.

---

puroḍāśāḥ (पुरोडाशाः) — Sacrificial cakes.

---

puruṣa (पुरुष) — Person / man / spirit.

---

puruṣam (पुरुषम्) — Person / man.

---

puñjiṣṭebhyaḥ (पुञ्जिष्टेभ्यः) — To the bird-catchers / fowlers.

---

puṣṭa (पुष्ट) — Nourished.

---

puṣṭi (पुष्टि) — Nourishment / growth.

---

pāryāya (पार्याय) — To the one of the opposite bank.

---

pātnīvataḥ (पाल्नीवतः) — With the wife (a graha).

---

pātreṣu (पात्रेषु) — In the vessels.

---

pāṃsavyāya (पांसव्याय) — To the one of dust.

---

pūryāya (पूर्याय) — To the one of the city / fortress.

---

pūrṇa (पूर्ण) — Full.

---

pūrṇatara (पूर्णतर) — Fuller.

---

pūtabhṛt (पूतभृत्) — The vessel holding purified Soma.

---

pūṣan (पूषन्) — Nourisher (solar deity).

---

pūṣā (पूषा) — Pūṣan (nourisher).

---

pṛthivī (पृथिवी) — Earth.

---

rajasah (रजसः) — Of the atmosphere / dust.

---

rajasyāya (रजस्याय) — To the one of dust / pollen.

---

rasa (रस) — Essence / taste.

---

rathakārebhyaḥ (रथकारेभ्यः) — To the chariot-makers.

---

rathapatibhyaḥ (रथपतिभ्यः) — To the lords of chariots.

---

rathebhyaḥ (रथेभ्यः) — To the chariots.

---

rathebhyaḥ (रथेभ्यः) — To the chariots.

---

rathibhyaḥ (रथिभ्यः) — To the charioteers.

---

rayi (रयि) — Wealth.

---

raśmi (रश्मि) — Ray.

---

reṣmiyāya (रेष्मियाय) — To the one of the storm / gale.

---

rkaḥ (र्कः) — Hymn / sun (arka fragment).

---

ro (रो) — Particle / fragment (often part of larger form).

---

rthaḥ (र्थः) — Goal / meaning (artha fragment).

---

rudra (रुद्र) — Rudra — fierce yet compassionate form of Shiva.

---

rudrāya (रुद्राय) — To Rudra.

---

rudrāyātātāvine (रुद्रयातताविने) — To Rudra who has the drawn bow.

---

rāyas (रायस्) — Riches.

---

rīriṣaḥ (रीरिषः) — Do not harm / injure (injurious form).

---

sa (स) — He / that.

---

sabhābhyaḥ (सभाभ्यः) — To the assemblies.

---

sabhāpatibhyaḥ (सभापतिभ्यः) — To the lords of assemblies.

---

sadvilāpyānām (सद्विलाप्यानाम्) — Of those who make loud sounds / howl.

---

sadāśiva (सदाशिव) — Eternally auspicious.

---

sadāśivāya (सदाशिवाय) — To eternally auspicious Shiva.

---

sagdhi (सग्धि) — Eating together.

---

sahamāna (सहमान) — Enduring / conquering.

---

sahas (सहस्) — Force / strength.

---

sahasraśaḥ (सहस्रशः) — By the thousands.

---

sahasrākṣa (सहस्राक्ष) — Thousand-eyed.

---

sahasrākṣāya (सहस्राक्षाय) — To the thousand-eyed.

---

sahasrāṇi (सहस्राणि) — Thousands.

---

sajoṣase (सजोषसे) — In harmony / together with.

---

sakhe (सखे) — O friend.

---

samāni (समानि) — Equal things.

---

samāno (समानो) — Equal / common.

---

sapta (सप्त) — Seven.

---

sapīti (सपीति) — Drinking together.

---

sarasvatī (सरस्वती) — Sarasvatī (speech / knowledge).

---

sarva (सर्व) — All / entire.

---

sarveśvarāya (सर्वेश्वराय) — To the Lord of all.

---

saspinjarā — Vedic form related to “saspinjarā”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

saspiñjarāya (सस्मिञ्जराय) — To the one who is reddish like grass / tawny.

---

sattvana (सत्त्वन) — Attendant, warrior, or follower (of Rudra).

---

sattvanām (सत्त्वानाम्) — Of the attendants / warriors / followers (of Rudra).

---

satvana (सत्त्वन) — Warrior, attendant, follower.

---

satvānaḥ (सत्त्वानः) — Followers / attendants.

---

satvānām (सत्त्वानाम्) — Of the warriors / attendants / good people.

---

satya (सत्य) — Truth.

---

saumanasa (सौमनस) — Good-mindedness / favor.

---

savitṛ (सवितृ) — The impeller / Sun.

---

saṃvid (संविद्) — Agreement / knowledge.

---

saṅgrahīṭṛbhyaḥ (संग्रहीतृभ्यः) — To the gatherers / collectors.

---

senāny (सेनान्य) — Army leader.

---

senānye (सेनान्ये) — To the army leader.

---

senānyo (सेनान्यो) — Army leader.

---

sikatā (सिकता) — Sand.

---

sikatāya (सिकताय) — To the one of sand.

---

smān (स्मान्) — Us (asmān).

---

sobhyāya (सोभ्याय) — To the one of the radiant / shining place.

---

soma (सोम) — Soma / moon / nectar.

---

somaḥ (सोमः) — Soma.

---

somāya (सोमाय) — To Soma.

---

srotasyāya (स्रोतस्याय) — To the one of the currents / streams.

---

sruc (स्रुच्) — Offering ladle.

---

srutyāya (स्रुत्याय) — To the one of the path / channel.

---

stenānām (स्तेनानाम्) — Of thieves.

---

stenānām (स्तेनानाम्) — Of thieves.

---

stoma (स्तोम) — Praise.

---

stuta (स्तुत) — Praised.

---

stāyūnām (स्तायूनाम्) — Of thieves / robbers.

---

sudina (सुदिन) — Auspicious day.

---

suga (सुग) — Easy path / welfare.

---

sukṛta (सुकृत) — Good deed / well-done.

---

sumanā (सुमना) — Well-disposed / kind-minded.

---

sumati (सुमति) — Good will / right thinking.

---

sumaṅgala (सुमङ्गल) — Highly auspicious / very fortunate.

---

sumaṅgalaḥ (सुमङ्गलः) — The highly auspicious one.

---

supatha (सुपथ) — Good path.

---

suva (सुव) — Heaven / impulse.

---

svagākāraḥ (स्वगाकारः) — The call 'svagā' (ritual formula).

---

svara (स्वर) — Sound / tone.

---

svaru (स्वरु) — Sacrificial post chip.

---

svāhā (स्वाहा) — Hail! (oblation call).

---

syadbhyaḥ (स्यद्भ्यः) — To those who move / flow.

---

sāman (सामन्) — Sāman chant.

---

sāvitṛā (सावित्रा) — Belonging to Savitr.

---

sīmadbhyaḥ (सीमद्भ्यः) — To those on the borders / edges.

---

sīra (सीर) — Plough.

---

sīsa (सीस) — Lead.

---

sū (सू) — Impeller / birth.

---

sūdyāya (सूद्याय) — To the one of the well / spring.

---

sūkta (सूक्त) — Well-spoken hymn.

---

sūnṛtā (सूनृता) — Kindly truth / pleasant speech.

---

sūrmyāya (सूर्याय) — To the one of the pipe / channel.

---

sūrya (सूर्य) — Sun.

---

sūta (सूत) — Charioteer.

---

sūtāya (सूताय) — To the charioteer.

---

sūṣā (सूषा) — Dawn / good morning.

---

ṣṛkāvant — Vedic form related to “ṣṛkāvant”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

ṣṛkāvibhyaḥ (सृकाविभ्यः) — To those armed with swords / spears.

---

tad (तद्) — That.

---

takṣabhyaḥ (तक्षभ्यः) — To the carpenters / fashioners.

---

talpyāya (तल्प्याय) — To the one of the bed / couch.

---

tanmasi (तन्मसि) — We hold / we place that.

---

tanū (तनू) — Body / form.

---

tanūḥ (तनूः) — Body / form.

---

tapas (तपस्) — Austerity.

---

taskara (तस्कर) — Robber / thief.

---

taskarāṇām (तस्कराणाम्) — Of robbers.

---

tava (तव) — Your.

---

tayā (तया) — By that / with that.

---

te (ते) — Your / to you.

---

tebhyaḥ (तेभ्यः) — To them / for them.

---

tebhyaḥ (तेभ्यः) — To them.

---

tigrāhyāḥ (तिग्राह्याः) — The extra / additional grahas.

---

tila (तिल) — Sesame.

---

tisraḥ (तिस्रः) — Three.

---

tiṣṭhadbhyaḥ (तिष्ठद्भ्यः) — To those who stand.

---

toke (तोके) — In offspring / children.

---

trapu (त्रपु) — Tin.

---

trayastrīṁśat (त्रयस्त्रिंशत्) — Thirty-three.

---

trayodaśa (त्रयोदश) — Thirteen.

---

trayoviṃśati (त्रयोविंशति) — Twenty-three.

---

tripurāntakāya (त्रिपुरान्तकाय) — To the destroyer of the three cities.

---

trivatsa (त्रिवत्स) — Three-year-old calf.

---

tryambaka (त्र्यम्बक) — Three-eyed one.

---

tryambakāya (त्र्यम्बकाय) — To the Three-eyed One.

---

turyauhī (तुर्यौही) — Four-year-old cow.

---

tvagm (त्वग्म्) — Skin / covering (tvacam).

---

tvaṣṭṛ (त्वष्टृ) — The fashioner.

---

tviṣi (त्विषि) — Brilliance / energy.

---

tāmra (ताम्र) — Copper-coloured / red.

---

tīkṣṇeṣave (तीक्ष्णेषवे) — To the one with sharp arrows.

---

tīrthyāya (तीर्थ्याय) — To the one of the ford / sacred crossing.

---

tīrthāni — Vedic form related to “tīrthāni”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

tr̥tsatīnām (तृत्सतीनाम्) — Of the thrice-hundred (hosts).

---

tr̥ṇhatībhyaḥ (तृहतीभ्यः) — To the crushing / destroying ones (fem.).

---

ubhayor (उभयोर) — Of both.

---

ubhābhyām (उभाभ्याम्) — With both.

---

uccairghoṣa (उच्चैर्घोष) — Loud-sounding.

---

uccairghoṣāyākrandayate (उच्चैर्घोषायाक्रन्दयते) — To the loud-roaring one who makes others cry out.

---

udahāryaḥ (उदहार्यः) — Water-carriers.

---

udīcyāḥ (उदीच्यः) — Northern.

---

ugaṇābhyas — Vedic form related to “ugaṇābhyas”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

ugaṇānām (उगणाणाम्) — Of the fierce hosts.

---

ugra (उग्र) — Fierce / mighty.

---

ugrāya (उग्राय) — To the fierce one.

---

ugāṇām (उगाणाम्) — Of the fierce ones.

---

ukṣan (उक्षन्) — Bull.

---

uparavāḥ (उपरवाः) — The sounding-holes (for Soma press).

---

upasadyaḥ (उपसद्यः) — To be approached.

---

upāṃśu (उपांशु) — Softly spoken (graha).

---

urvaryāya (उर्वर्याय) — To the one of fertile soil.

---

uta (उत) — And / also / further.

---

utainam (उतैनम्) — And him / further this one.

---

utota (उतोत) — And also / further.

---

uṣṇih (उष्णिह्) — A Vedic metre.

---

uṣṇīṣiṇe (उष्णीषिणे) — To the one wearing a turban / headband.

---

vabhṛthaḥ (वभृथः) — The concluding bath (avabhṛtha).

---

vacasā (वचसा) — With speech / by word.

---

vadhīr (वधीर्) — Do not slay.

---

vadhīḥ (वधीः) — Do not slay / kill.

---

vadāmasi (वदामसि) — We speak / we say.

---

vaiśvadeva (वैश्वदेव) — Relating to the All-gods.

---

vaiśvadevaḥ (वैश्वदेवः) — Belonging to the All-gods (Viśvedevas).

---

vaiśvānaraś — Vedic form related to “vaiśvānaraś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

vanaspatayaḥ (वनस्पतयः) — Forest trees.

---

vanaspati (वनस्पति) — Forest tree.

---

vanyāya (वन्याय) — To the forest-dweller.

---

vanāni (वनानि) — Forests.

---

vanānām (वनानाम्) — Of forests.

---

vapa (वप) — Scatter / put away.

---

vardhantu (वर्धन्तु) — May they increase / strengthen.

---

varimā (वरिमा) — Width / expanse.

---

varivaskṛtāya (वरिवस्कृताय) — To the one who grants freedom / space.

---

varma (वर्म) — Armor / protection.

---

varuṇa (वरुण) — Varuna (order / waters).

---

varṣma (वर्ष्म) — Height / body.

---

vasati (वसति) — Dwelling.

---

vasavaḥ (वसवः) — The Vasus.

---

vasu (वसु) — Wealth / good.

---

vasyas (वस्यस्) — The preferable.

---

vatsa (वत्स) — Calf.

---

vañcate (वञ्चते) — Cheats / deceives.

---

vaśa (वश) — Control / will.

---

vaḥ / vo (वः) — Your (plural) / to you all.

---

vaṣaṭ (वषट्) — Ritual call (vaṣaṭ).

---

vedi (वेदि) — Altar.

---

vedya (वेद्य) — What is to be known.

---

vehaḥ (वेहः) — A barren / sterile cow.

---

vibhu (विभु) — Pervading / abundant.

---

vicinvatkebhyaḥ (विचिन्वत्केभ्यः) — To those who search / gather.

---

vidhema (विधेम) — May we offer / worship.

---

vidhyadbhyaś — Vedic form related to “vidhyadbhyaś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

vidyutyāya (विद्युत्याय) — To the one of lightning.

---

vijyam (विज्यम्) — Unstrung (bow).

---

vikṣīṇakebhyaḥ (विक्षीणकेभ्यः) — To the wasted / emaciated ones.

---

vilohita (विलोहित) — Deep red.

---

visrjadbhyaḥ (विसृजद्भ्यः) — To those who release / shoot.

---

vitasthire (वितस्थिरे) — They have spread / stood apart.

---

vitta (वित्त) — Wealth / what is found.

---

vitti (वित्ति) — Gain / acquisition.

---

vividhyanti — Vedic form related to “vividhyanti”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

vividhyantām (विविध्यन्ताम्) — Of those who pierce in various ways.

---

vividhyantībhyaś — Vedic form related to “vividhyantībhyaś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

vivyādhine (विव्याधिने) — To the one who pierces thoroughly.

---

viśalyo (विशल्यो) — Without arrow-points.

---

viśva (विश्व) — All.

---

viśvataḥ (विश्वतः) — From all sides / everywhere.

---

viśve (विश्वे) — All (the All-gods).

---

viśvedevāḥ (विश्वेदेवाः) — The All-gods.

---

viśveśvara (विश्वेश्वर) — Lord of the universe.

---

viśveśvarāya (विश्वेश्वराय) — To the Lord of the Universe.

---

viṃśatiḥ (विंशतिः) — Twenty.

---

viṣṇu (विष्णु) — Vishnu (pervader).

---

vrata (व्रत) — Sacred vow.

---

vrīhi (व्रीहि) — Rice.

---

vyaśniyaś — Vedic form related to “vyaśniyaś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

vyaśniyaḥ (व्यश्नयः) — Pervading.

---

vyuptakeśāya (व्युप्तकेशाय) — To the one with shaven / dishevelled hair.

---

vyādhīnām (व्याधीनाम्) — Of those who pierce.

---

vyāna (व्यान) — Pervading vital air.

---

vāg (वाग्) — Speech (vāk).

---

vāja (वाज) — Nourishment / strength / food.

---

vājaśca (वाजश्च) — And nourishment.

---

vājebhiḥ (वाजेभिः) — With strengths / nourishments.

---

vāk (वाक्) — Speech.

---

vāmanāya (वामनाय) — To the dwarf / short one.

---

vāstavyāya (वास्तव्याय) — To the one of the dwelling / homestead.

---

vātyāya (वात्याय) — To the one of the wind.

---

vāyavyāni (वायव्यानि) — Belonging to Vāyu / wind-related vessels.

---

vāṅgiraḥ (वाङ्गिरः) — O Aṅgiras-like / of the Aṅgirasas.

---

vāṇijāya (वाणिजाय) — To the merchant / trader.

---

vīrudh (वीरुध्) — Plant / creeper.

---

vīrān (वीरान्) — Heroes / men.

---

vītyā (वीत्या) — Having pursued / having sought.

---

vṛddha (वृद्ध) — Grown / increased.

---

vṛddhi (वृद्धि) — Growth / increase.

---

vṛkṣa (वृक्ष) — Tree.

---

vṛkṣebhyaḥ (वृक्षेभ्यः) — To the trees.

---

vṛkṣebhyo (वृक्षेभ्यो) — To the trees.

---

vṛkṣeṣu — Vedic form related to “vṛkṣeṣu”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

vṛkṣāṇām (वृक्षाणाम्) — Of trees.

---

vṛṇaktu (वृणक्तु) — May it spare / avoid.

---

vṛṣṭi (वृष्टि) — Rain.

---

yac (यच्) — Which / what (yat fragment).

---

yajamāna (यजमान) — The sacrificer.

---

yajus (यजुस्) — Sacrificial formula.

---

yajña (यज्ञ) — Sacrifice / sacred ritual.

---

yajñaḥ (यज्ञः) — Sacrifice.

---

yajñena (यज्ञेन) — By means of the sacrifice.

---

yajño (यज्ञो) — The sacrifice.

---

yakṣman (यक्ष्मन्) — Disease / consumption.

---

yantā (यन्ता) — Controller / guide.

---

yastāmraḥ (यस्ताम्रः) — Who is copper-red / tawny.

---

yathā (यथा) — Just as / according as.

---

yava (यव) — Barley.

---

yavam (यवम्) — Barley.

---

yavyudhaḥ (यव्युधः) — Fighting with barley / related form.

---

yaśas (यशस्) — Fame / glory.

---

ye (ये) — Who / which (plural).

---

yoṣ (योष) — Of which (fragment).

---

yuḥyam (युज्यम्) — To be yoked / joined.

---

yā / yaḥ (या / यः) — Which / who.

---

yāmyāya (याम्याय) — To the one of Yama / southern.

---

yātudhānyaḥ (यातुधान्यः) — Sorcerers / harmful beings.

---

ābhuḥ (आभुः) — Has become.

---

ādhavanīyaḥ (आधवनीयः) — The vessel for shaking/purifying Soma.

---

ādhipatya (आधिपत्य) — Overlordship / sovereignty.

---

ādhīta (आधीत) — What is studied / retained.

---

āgatam (आगतम्) — Come / arrived.

---

āgrayaṇaḥ (आग्रयणः) — The first-fruits offering / graha.

---

ākkhidate (आक्खिदते) — To the one who tears / pulls.

---

āmīvatkebhyaḥ (आमीवत्केभ्यः) — To those who afflict / disease.

---

ānirhatebhyaḥ (आनिर्हतेभ्यः) — To the unharmed / unslain.

---

āpaḥ (आपः) — Waters.

---

āraṇya (आरण्य) — Wild (animals).

---

āre (आरे) — Far away.

---

ārtni (आर्त्ति) — Bow-end / tip of the bow.

---

āsava (आसवे) — To the quick / swift one.

---

āsīnebhyaḥ (आसीनेभ्यः) — To those who are seated.

---

ātanvānebhyaḥ (आतन्वानेभ्यः) — To those who stretch / draw (the bow).

---

ātmā (आत्मा) — Self / soul.

---

ātāryāya (आतार्याय) — To the one of the ferry / crossing.

---

āvyādhinībhyo — Vedic form related to “āvyādhinībhyo”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

āvyādhinīnām — Vedic form related to “āvyādhinīnām”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

āyacchadbhyaḥ (आयच्छद्भ्यः) — To those who draw / stretch toward.

---

āyaje (आयजे) — I worshiped / offered.

---

āyudhāya (आयुधाय) — To the weapon.

---

āyur (आयुर) — Life / lifespan.

---

āyus (आयुस्) — Life-span / longevity.

---

āśave (आशवे) — To the swift one.

---

āśuṣeṇāya (आशुषेणाय) — To the one with swift missiles.

---

īdhriyāya (ईध्रियाय) — To the one of the clear sky.

---

īmahe (ईमहे) — We seek / we approach.

---

śakti (शक्ति) — Power / ability.

---

śakvaryaḥ (शक्वर्यः) — Powerful (metres/verses).

---

śakvarīr — Vedic form related to “śakvarīr”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

śalyānām (शल्यानाम्) — Of the arrow-points.

---

śam (शम्) — Welfare / peace.

---

śambhave (शम्भवे) — To Shambhu.

---

śambhu (शम्भु) — Beneficent; source of happiness.

---

śarma (शर्म) — Refuge / happiness.

---

śarva (शर्व) — Archer / destroyer (Rudra).

---

śarvāya (शर्वाय) — To Sharva.

---

śarīrāṇi (शरीराणि) — Bodies.

---

śata (शत) — Hundred.

---

śateṣudhe (शतेषुधे) — O you with a hundred quivers.

---

śateṣudhe (शतेषुधे) — Having a hundred quivers.

---

śayana (शयन) — Resting place / bed.

---

śaṅkara (शङ्कर) — Cause of auspiciousness.

---

śaṅkarāya (शङ्कराय) — To Shankara.

---

śaṣpyāya (शष्याय) — To the one of young grass.

---

śipiviṣṭa (शिपिविष्ट) — Pervaded by rays / luminous.

---

śipiviṣṭāya (शिपिविष्टाय) — To the one pervaded by rays / luminous.

---

śitikaṇṭhā — Vedic form related to “śitikaṇṭhā”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

śitikaṇṭhāya (शितिकण्ठाय) — To the white-throated one.

---

śitikaṇṭhāḥ — Vedic form related to “śitikaṇṭhāḥ”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

śiva (शिव) — Auspicious; the Lord Shiva.

---

śivam (शिवम्) — Auspicious, benevolent.

---

śivatamā (शिवतमा) — Most auspicious / most benevolent.

---

śivatarāya (शिवतराय) — To the still more auspicious.

---

śivāya (शिवाय) — To Shiva / the auspicious one.

---

śīśira (शिशिर) — Cool / winter.

---

śloka (श्लोक) — Verse / fame.

---

ślokyāya (श्लोक्याय) — To the famous / praiseworthy one.

---

śraddhā (श्रद्धा) — Faith / trust.

---

śreyas (श्रेयस्) — The better / welfare.

---

śritāḥ (श्रिताः) — Dwelling / resorting to.

---

śrotra (श्रोत्र) — Ear / hearing.

---

śruti (श्रुति) — Hearing / sacred text.

---

śrāva (श्राव) — Hearing / fame.

---

śukraḥ (शुक्रः) — Bright / the Śukra graha.

---

śuṣkyāya (शुष्याय) — To the one of the dry place.

---

śvabhyaḥ (श्वभ्यः) — To the dogs.

---

śvamedhaś — Vedic form related to “śvamedhaś”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

śvanibhyaḥ (श्वनिभ्यः) — To the dog-keepers / hunters with dogs.

---

śvinau (श्विनौ) — The two Aśvins.

---

śyenah (श्येनः) — Hawk / eagle.

---

śyāma (श्याम) — Dark metal.

---

śyāmāka (श्यामाक) — A type of millet.

---

śānti (शान्ति) — Peace.

---

śībhyāya (शीभ्याय) — To the swift-moving one.

---

śīghriyāya (शीघ्रियाय) — To the rapid one.

---

śūrāya (शूराय) — To the hero / brave one.

---

ūrjah (ऊर्जः) — Strength / nourishment.

---

ūrka (ऊर्क) — Strength / nourishment.

---

ūrmyāya (ऊर्म्याय) — To the wavy / undulating one.

---

ūrvyāya (ऊर्व्याय) — To the one of the wide earth.

---

ṛddha (ऋद्ध) — Prospered.

---

ṛddhi (ऋद्धि) — Prosperity.

---

ṛk (ऋक्) — Ṛc verse.

---

ṛta (ऋत) — Cosmic order / truth.

---

ṛtu (ऋतु) — Season.

---

ṛṣabha (ऋषभ) — Bull / best.

---

ṛṣayaḥ (ऋषयः) — Sages.

---

ṣaṭtriṃśac — Vedic form related to “ṣaṭtriṃśac”. See context in the Sacred Text.

---

ṣoḍaśa (षोडश) — Sixteen.

---

ṣṭau (ष्टौ) — Eight.

---

ṣṭācatvāriṃśat (ष्टाचत्वारिंशत्) — Forty-eight.

---

ṣṭāvīṃśatiḥ (ष्टाविंशतिः) — Twenty-eight.

---

← Back to Contents

RUDRAM COMPANION — Enlightening Perspectives

© 2026 Dr. Axay Kalathia · Licensed under CC BY-NC-ND 4.0